Solons Told Of Wiretap In Scranton

Union Officials' Talk Recorded To 'Prove Innocence'

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate rackets probes today ordered contempt of Congress charges against Robert Hubbsman, Scranton, Pa., Teamsters Union member, who refused to tell them even whether he is "a decent citizen." Hubbsman invoked the Fifth Amendment.

WASHINGTON (AP)—William Munley swore today he dynamited a nonunion house project at Scranton, Pa., in 1954 "more or less on a dare" and without any orders from union leaders.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Helen Canfield, friend of convicted dynamiter Paul Bradshaw, told Senate rackets investigators today how she secretly recorded conversations by Scranton, Pa., union officials, in an effort to prove Bradshaw was innocent.

Miss Canfield, a pretty brunette, was called to testify after Bradshaw's sister, Mrs. Margaret Kollra of Scranton, testified that union officials took revenge on her husband because of the recordings.

She quoted a Teamsters Union steward whom she named only as Sullivan as telling her husband, Albert Kollra, "don't you know when you're through" when he demanded work.

Mayor Denies Charge
Committee Chairman McClellan (D-Ark.) placed in evidence a sworn statement from Scranton's Mayor James T. Hanlon denying as "untrue" Bradshaw's testimony yesterday that Hanlon had urged Bradshaw to "lay off" until after a 1955 city election with accusations against union officials in connection with the dynamiting.

Hanlon's statement said these allegations "are untrue and have no basis in fact."

Mrs. Kollra testified that her husband had obtained a job through Robert Malloy, business agent of the Teamsters Union in Scranton, in 1955 just before Miss Canfield and Bradshaw made the tape recordings by "bugging" Miss Canfield's apartment with microphones.

She said Robert Hubbsman, a Teamsters Union member, who was "implicated" in the dynamiting by the recordings, went to her husband and told him there were "no hard feelings" but that a week or so later her husband was laid off his job as a truck driver.

She said she appealed personally to John Durkin, secretary-treasurer of Teamsters Local 229, and that he told her "Paul (Bradshaw) shouldn't have talked."

She said Durkin told her "three unions were getting together $10,000 to give Paul" but that "he didn't mention no names or how they would get it."

Van Doren Wed To New York Girl

ST. THOMAS, Virgin Islands—(INS)—A man identified as Charles Van Doren, lanky mental marvel of television's "Twenty-One" quiz, was married at St. Thomas today to a New York girl, Geraldine Ann Bernstein.

Throughout his record tenure on "Twenty-One," where he won $129,000, the 30-year-old Van Doren insisted he had no special heart interest.

Girls Give Flowers To First Lady

Mrs. Eisenhower accepts a bouquet of flowers and greetings from two little girls of the Children of the American Revolution at the White House in connection with the national meeting of the CAR and DAR in Washington. Children are Eloise and Allene Phillips of Cape Girardeau, Mo. Robert C. Barr, Houston, Tex., is at right.

Mail Service Seen Back To Normal Soon

WASHINGTON (AP)—With 41 million dollars of additional funds in the bill, the Post Office Department today started returning postal service to a close-to-normal basis.

Postmaster General Summerfield last night called off most of the cutbacks ordered 11 days ago. He acted within minutes after President Eisenhower signed a supplemental appropriation bill rushed through Congress in the last two days.

Summerfield said that "within 24 hours mail service will be back to nearly the same basis as it was" prior to the retrenchment order of April 5.

That means post office windows will be open as usual next Saturday, and there will be the customary residential deliveries and corner box pickups that day. Also canceled were plans for suspending third class mail service, except for medical items, and for stopping issuance of money orders in larger cities.

Summerfield said he was "happy to announce the resumption of normal mail service," but his statement later qualified this somewhat. He noted he had asked for 47 million dollars more to operate for the next 2½ months without cutbacks, and that Congress gave him six million less than that.

UN Council Head Killed

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Kamal Eddine Salah, Egyptian chairman of the U. N. Advisory Council on Somalia, was assassinated yesterday in the trust territory in East Africa.

The U. N. Trusteeship Council was informed of Salah's death by Council President Rafik Asha of Syria. He said the Egyptian diplomat was stabbed to death in Mogadiscio, but that no details had been received.

Bus Battle Flares In Dixie, Four Face Court Hearing

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—An angry down but the woman exchange of blows between a white man and three Negro women flared yesterday on a racially integrated Montgomery city bus.

Police said it was the first racial incident on a city bus since shortly after the U. S. Supreme Court ordered an end to segregation on them Dec. 21. The four were charged with assault and battery.

Milder, Wet Weather Due

BALTIMORE (AP)—Five-day forecast: Considerable cloudiness tonight and Thursday with occasional periods of mostly light rain or showers. Milder tonight, warmer Thursday. Friday gradual clearing followed by a dry to somewhat cooler weekend. Rain or showers Monday. Temperatures will average about four degrees above normal.

Egypt Warns Of Violence, Border Raids

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Egypt last night accused Israel of raiding across the Gaza border and warned the U. N. Security Council this might be a forerunner to "new acts of terror and violence."

Israel in turn announced a wave of murder, kidnapping and shooting along her borders with Jordan, Syria and Lebanon.

Egyptian Delegate Omar Loutfi wrote Council President Sir Pierson Dixon of Britain that in the past few weeks, Israeli patrols attacked Gaza inhabitants, Israeli planes ranged over towns in the strip and Israeli troops kidnapped a field worker.

Loutfi did not ask for council action at this stage. He said Egypt had placed its charges before the U. N. Mixed Armistice Commission and pointed out that Israel had not done the same with charges of Arab infiltration from the strip.

Savings Bonds Interest Hiked

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress has cleared the way for the Treasury to pay 3½ per cent interest on government savings bonds.

The Treasury has indicated it plans to make the higher rate effective on all bonds sold on and after last Feb. 1. The bonds have been limited to 3 per cent.

Elkins' Jury Being Picked

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Selection of a jury to try Portland gambler Big Jim Elkins and his henchman Raymond Clark on federal wiretap charges resumes here today.

They are accused of illegally recording telephone conversations. And Dist. Atty. William Langley of Multnomah County (Portland) may find out today if he is to be removed from office.

Langley, the county's chief legal officer, was convicted in a state circuit court here last Saturday on a charge of not prosecuting gambling.

Vast Throng Greets Greek Church Head

ATHENS (AP)—Archbishop Makarios, leader of the Greek Cypriot majority seeking union with Greece, arrived in Athens today after 13 months of British detention on the Seychelles Islands.

Thousands of Athenians braved unusually chilly weather and gloomy skies to cheer the Greek Orthodox prelate as he was driven in an open car along the seven-mile route to downtown Athens.

An imposing array of political, church and military leaders greeted Makarios at the airport and in a long line of limousines, shared his triumphal entry into the city.

The welcome included Archbishop Dorotheos, primate of Greece, and members of the Cyprus ethnarchy which Makarios heads; Foreign Minister Evangelos Averoff and Interior Minister Constantine Tsalos; Parliament members of all parties; the prefect of Athens and mayors of neighboring cities.

All Athens police were put on the alert for Makarios' arrival and troops in full battle dress were stationed in force at strategic points, including the British and Turkish embassies and consulates. Cyprus Turkish minority is opposed to union with Greece and demand that the island be returned to Turkey if British rule is ended.

Princess Enjoys Jazz Concert By Count Basie Band

LONDON (INS)—Ardent jazz fan Princess Margaret attended Count Basie's concert at Royal Festival Hall last night and loved it so she went back for the second performance.

The Princess, wearing a ginger-colored mink coat and a pink off-shoulder ballet length tulle dress, beat out rhythm with her hands and feet as she sat in the royal box with five guests.

Basie dedicated a new number to Her Royal Highness, called the "H.R.H. Boogie."

Reds Execute Rebel

VIENNA (INS)—Radio Budapest said today a "counter revolutionary" had been executed at Bozrod for "the assassination of an officer of the Hungarian army."

Beck Union Rebuff Seen By AFL-CIO

Teamsters' Board Asks Negotiations On Proposed Trial

By NORMAN WALKER

WASHINGTON (AP)—Teamsters Union moves to delay or talk their way out of a showdown on AFL-CIO corruption charges seemed likely today to run into a solid rebuff from the federation.

Sources in the parent federation said trial procedures already set for Dave Beck, Teamsters Union president, and the huge trucking union itself are fair and "leave no room for negotiation."

AFL-CIO President George Meany was out of the city and not immediately available for comment.

Ask Bill Of Particulars
The embattled Teamsters' Executive Board, meeting in Galveston, Tex., yesterday, asked the AFL-CIO for negotiations as to charges against Beck and a bill of particulars as to charges that the union itself is under corrupt domination. The board, contending the charges were not specific, said it would attend no hearings until "fundamentals of fair adjudication" are assured.

The AFL-CIO charges are based on Beck's invoking the Fifth Amendment in refusing to tell Senate rackets investigators about his admitted personal use of union funds, and court indictments against other high officers of the union.

The federation's Ethical Practices Committee has set May 6 for a hearing for the union. The AFL-CIO Executive Council has set May 20 to hear the case against Beck, who already has been suspended as an AFL-CIO vice president and council member.

Boiled down, the attitude of President Meany and other chiefs of the big labor combine seems to be this: either the Teamsters did themselves of Beck and other leaders whose actions have been criticized, or the union is going to be kicked out of the federation.

The Teamsters' board, acting unanimously, appeared to give Beck solid backing in his fight with the AFL-CIO. It said his "suspension was without authority and the filing of charges was contrary" to the AFL-CIO constitution. It said the findings against the union also were made without authority.

Want 'Rights' Assured
The Teamsters board said it would attend the hearing for the union on May 6 only if it got a bill of particulars on charges that the union was dominated by "corrupt" influences.

Two Airmen Die In Crash

EGG HARBOR, N.J. (AP)—Two radar equipped dive bombers collided in flight last night and crashed about three miles northwest of here touching off a forest fire. Two men were killed.

The pilot and crewman of one of the AD-5N propeller-driven planes from the Atlantic City Naval Air Station parachuted to safety. But the station said the two man crew of the second plane died in the crash.

Names of all personnel involved were withheld.

Scott Set To Fight Extradition Moves

DETROIT (AP)—Ewing Scott, retired Los Angeles investment broker sought for 11 months by police in two countries, said today he will fight every effort to return him to California to face charges of murdering his wealthy socialite wife.

Blast, Blaze Kills Mother And Children

BINGHAMTON, N.Y. (AP)—A mother and her two children were killed today when an explosion and fire ripped open their home. The father suffered severe burns and critical injuries from flying fragments from the explosion.

Police at first believed Woodrow Matthews, about 40, had stabbed himself because he was unable to save his family.

Killed when the blast blew their house apart were Mrs. Ella Matthews; her daughter, Alan, 14; and her son Carl, 10.

Two neighboring houses were damaged extensively by fire. Police found Matthews, wearing only shorts, under a rear porch of his two-story frame home.

Dr. Judson Griffin said Matthews, an industrial painter, suffered multiple puncture wounds in the chest and stomach from flying fragments. He said a three-inch piece of wire was imbedded in his neck. Matthews was burned badly about the legs and neck.

Freight Trains Delayed By B. & O. Derailment

WOODBINE, Md. (AP)—Thirty-seven loaded coal cars of an Eastbound Baltimore and Ohio freight train left the tracks near this southern Carroll County town early today.

No one was reported injured, but both lanes of the Old Main Lines tracks were blocked by overturned cars and spilled coal.

Ike's Brother Sees Budget Too Large, Urges Economy

WASHINGTON (AP)—Edgar Eisenhower, one of President Eisenhower's four brothers, says he can't understand why the administration's controversial $71,800,000 budget is so large.

A Tacoma, Wash., lawyer, he and his wife had an appointment with the President yesterday, but White House reporters did not get to see them. He was interviewed later by telephone at his hotel.

"I certainly feel the cost of government is getting way out of line," he said. "Everybody is asking for economy in government because it is taking a large portion of our income as it is, and I'm very conscious of that."

Voices Hope U. N. Action 'Not Needed'

President Asserts Aqaba, Suez Can't Be 'Closed Waters'

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today the United States still has some hope of solving the Suez Canal problem without resort to the U. N. Security Council.

The President told a news conference it is not necessarily so that this country already has decided to put the disagreement with Egypt before the council.

The United States, Eisenhower added, has not completely given up hope for an equitable solution.

Believes Progress Made
Eisenhower said further that he believes some progress has been made in U. S. negotiations with Egypt. He said he was not denying that in the long run the controversy might have to go to the U. N., but repeated that he is not abandoning hope.

At U. N. headquarters Western diplomatic quarters said today they are encouraged at private negotiations over Suez, and the Western powers have decided not to bring the issue before the Security Council this week.

On a related matter, Eisenhower said the United States still regards both the Gulf of Aqaba and the Suez Canal as international waterways available to ships of all countries.

Eisenhower said it is up to individual American shipping companies to decide in each case whether they actually want to use the Suez Canal. He made that statement when asked how long the United States plans to continue asking American ships to refrain from use of the canal.

Eisenhower said he does not believe we have made any such request to the shipping companies.

Told To Be Prudent
The companies have been told to be prudent, however, Eisenhower said.

MISSILES—Eisenhower said the United States has no plans to attempt to ring the Soviet Union with guided missile bases. He added that the only plans this country has for missiles abroad were announced at his March conference at Bermuda with British Prime Minister Macmillan.

At that session, the United States agreed to provide missiles to the British, but stipulated that atomic warheads would remain in American custody.

As for Britain's plans to withdraw 13,500 troops from Western Europe, Eisenhower said the plan there has been for West Germany to take up the slack. The President went on to say that reduction of British manpower will not affect the United States program.

DISARMAMENT—Eisenhower said his disarmament aide, J. Edgar Hoover, was in London today.

Cocktail Party Ban Rejected By Ballot In House

WASHINGTON (INS)—The House has agreed that diplomatic cocktail parties are here to stay. It rejected yesterday a move by Rep. Edward Rees (R) Kans. to ban them.

A confirmed drinker, to cut what is called the "representation allowance" for the State Department from $600,000 to $400,000 for the coming fiscal year.

"This thing has gone wild," Rees told the House. "I don't see why you have to have people drink intoxicating liquor in order to get along with them."

17 Frenchmen Killed

ALGIERS (INS)—French security forces lost 15 men and one officer yesterday in a dozen scattered battles with Algerian rebels.

'Bootleg Queen' Claims She Paid Tulsa Reporter

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—A woman who said she was known in Oklahoma as "Queen of the Bootleggers" testified yesterday that she paid money to a Tulsa Tribune crime reporter, Nolen Bulloch.

Bulloch, Tulsa Police Commissioner Jay L. Jones, suspended Police Chief Paul J. Livingston, six suspended policemen and 11 other persons went on trial on charges of conspiring to import and sell liquor in constitutionally dry Oklahoma without paying federal taxes. All pleaded innocent to the charges in U. S. District Court.

The witness, Cleo Epps, told a jury that during four months in 1948 she gave Bulloch money collected from night club operators and liquor dealers. Bulloch, wrote no unfavorable news stories about the donors in the period, she said. Bulloch was branded by the federal prosecutor as "the conductor" in the alleged conspiracy.

Mrs. Epps, a middle-aged ex-school teacher, said she abandoned liquor connections and in July 1953 operated a truck stop consisting of a service station and cafe near Tulsa.

The witness, who acknowledged she had acquired the title of "Queen of the Bootleggers," admitted she had twice pleaded guilty to federal liquor charges since she quit the whisky-selling business.

Both times, she said, she "took the rap" for an associate on charges of hauling liquor.

At her truck stop, she said, Bulloch told her she would have to pay or "he would close me up."

"I told him I didn't think he could," she said. "He wanted $2,000 a month."

"I told him I wasn't violating any law and I wasn't going to pay anybody $2,000."

"He told me I would be padlocked, and I was."

Five Workers Die In Blast

NITRO, W. Va. (AP)—A thunderous explosion at a big chemical plant late yesterday killed five workmen, injured four and turned a three-story building into gutted rubble.

Mushrooming chemical vapors from fire ignited by the blast drifted over this highly industrialized valley, causing watery eyes and sore throats among scores of residents. No serious effects from the fumes was reported.

Cause of the explosion at the sprawling Monsanto Chemical Co. plant has not been established.

Schools Planned For Integration

NEW YORK (AP)—Twenty-four new schools are to be built at a cost of some 60 million dollars in Negro sections of Manhattan and Brooklyn as part of the city's school integration program.

Dr. David H. Moskowitz, associate superintendent in charge of the city's school building program, outlined the plan yesterday. The schools will be built over a three-year period.

Negro Editor Refuses Bid To Richmond

NEW YORK (AP)—A Negro newspaper publisher has reversed himself and declined a controversial invitation to attend a dinner next month in Richmond, Va., honoring "distinguished Virginians."

Dr. C. L. Powell, a native of Newport News, Va., and publisher of the Amsterdam News here in Harlem, declined the invitation yesterday in letters to Virginia Gov. Thomas B. Stanley and Frank Arthur Ernst, president of Virginia's State Chamber of Commerce.

Powell wrote that it was "definitely clear to all concerned" that the storm over the invitation arose "because of my race."

Powell's invitation had been termed a "mistake" by Chamber officials. It prompted Powell to declare at the time that he would attend unless Stanley personally withdrew the invitation.

But Stanley has referred all inquiries to the Chamber of Commerce.

Three Negroes born in Virginia were invited to the May 17 dinner marking the 350th anniversary of the Jamestown settlement. Powell and Mrs. Ella F. Stewart of Toledo, Ohio, have accepted the withdrawal of the invitations.

But the third, St. Clair Drake, a professor at Roosevelt University in Chicago, has not yet indicated any change in his plans to attend.

A Chamber official said yesterday that any of the invited Negroes who do attend will be treated politely and seated.

"I feel sure they will be received courteously and seated for dinner," said Vernon E. Kemp, the Chamber's executive director.

Earlier, Chamber officials said the invitations had slipped through a careful screening process.

Voices Hope

old E. Stassen, believes disarmament talks with Russia, now under way in London, are the most important and most serious since World War II.

Stassen also feels, Eisenhower added, that the general atmosphere at the London negotiations is better than at earlier sessions, and that everyone is trying to work out an agreement.

POSTAL—Postmaster General Summerfield had his complete approval in curtailing mail service last weekend when Congress held up emergency funds requested by the administration, Eisenhower said.

Summerfield, he added, had no alternative when the 47 million dollars sought was not forthcoming.

Congress yesterday completed action on a bill providing 41 million dollars and Eisenhower promptly signed it, thus providing restoration of nearly all the postal services which had been cut off.

NATURAL GAS—Eisenhower said his aides tell him that a natural gas bill introduced last week by Reps. O'Hara (R-Minn.) and Harris (D-Ark.) seems to meet the criteria which he fixed last year regarding legislation in that field.

Eisenhower last year vetoed a natural gas bill, saying he did so only because of what he termed "arrogant" lobbying in its behalf by some segments of the oil industry.

He said at the time he favored the principles of the measure, which would have exempted natural gas producers from direct federal price regulation.

The new bill provides for federal price regulation, but directs that "market value" and not the standards of public utility price regulation, be the measuring stick.

Beek Union

It also wants assurance of rights to confront and cross-examine accusers, to submit evidence and to be judged by "a tribunal which has not prejudged the case."

AFL-CIO sources said this appeared to be designed for delay. They said unions on trial always have the right to be represented by counsel, submit evidence and file briefs. A spokesman added that "the accusers are not individuals but the record of words spoken by those on trial or their failure to speak when accused."

Forbes Wins GOP Race To Meet Meyner

NEWARK, N.J. (AP)—Sen. Malcolm S. Forbes, an early Eisenhower booster, will be the Republican candidate for governor of New Jersey against Gov. Robert B. Meyner in November's election.

Forbes, backed by almost all the large GOP county organizations, defeated Sen. Wayne Dumont Jr. of Warren County by more than 88,000 votes in yesterday's primary election.

With returns from 4,186 of the state's 4,213 districts, Forbes led Dumont 213,528 to 124,902.

Forbes carried 14 of the state's 21 counties.

Meyner, seeking a second four-year term, was unopposed in the Democratic primary. He left for Florida with his wife shortly after voting yesterday.

Forbes announced he would conduct a campaign based on the theme "that Eisenhower Republicanism has roots and meaning above and beyond the personal appeal of a great president."

He told newsmen, "It's not a coal-tail thing, but a deep philosophy."

Forbes, 37-year-old publisher of Forbes' Magazine of Business and Finance, organized a statewide Eisenhower-for-President Club in 1951.

Rainy Spell Due In East

By The Associated Press
Wet weather, mostly showers, was indicated today for most of the nation; similar to yesterday's widespread precipitation and cloudy skies.

Mild weather prevailed in most areas. Warming continued in the eastern part of the country from the Great Lakes region to Texas and eastward to the Atlantic Coast.

Temperatures ranged from near 40 in the extreme north to the 60s in the Gulf Coast states.

Scientific Genius From Fifth Grade Wins Highest TV Quiz Show Total

NEW YORK (AP)—Robert Strom, an amazing 10-year-old from the Bronx, stands today unequalled in television quiz show history. He's won more money than anyone else — $192,000.

Young Robert, a fifth grade pupil, reached that pinnacle last night on the CBS program The $64,000 Question. He turned the trick by answering questions dealing with various fields of science.

By winning he remained eligible to continue on the program in hopes of capturing the show's grand prize — $258,000.

Under the program rules, a contestant competes for so-called "plateaus" of $64,000 each. As he reaches each "plateau" he is entitled to keep each $64,000 block.

In Robert's case it amounts to Armstrong, Rene Descartes, Heron, three, meaning he will keep the entire $192,000, whether or not he stumbles in his quest for the grand prize.

In addition, his $192,000 winnings will be paid in three yearly installments to enable him to lessen income taxes.

While young Robert stands atop the TV quiz show money pile, he's not too far ahead of his nearest challenger, 11-year-old Leonard Ross of California. Ross won $164,000 some time ago on two different shows.

Here are the questions and answers:

Part 1 — Name the men associated with the development or discovery of frequency modulation, analytic geometry, and radio-activity. Answers: Edwin Armstrong, Rene Descartes, Heron, three, meaning he will keep the entire $192,000, whether or not he stumbles in his quest for the grand prize.

Part 2 — Tell what reaction would occur and what the by-products would be from combining hydrochloric acid and sodium hydroxide, and combining metallic sodium and water. Answers: Heat is produced and water and salt (sodium chloride) are formed; an explosion occurs and hydrogen and sodium hydroxide are by-products.

Part 3 — Name seven constellations in the summer sky which contain stars of the first magnitude; name the seven stars; circle these stars on a pexiglas map of the heavens.

Answers: The constellations are: Scorpius, Virgo, Leo, Bootes, Cygnus, Aquila and Lyra; the stars are: Antares, Deneb, Vega, Altair, Arcturus, Regulus and Spica.

Strom then circled the brightest stars on the map that hung in his soundproof booth.

Atomic Weapon Use Warning To Russians Aired

LONDON (AP)—An American spokesman has told the Soviet Union the United States never intends to use atomic weapons in small border incidents, but that doesn't mean they wouldn't be used under any circumstances.

Disarmament Delegate Harold Stassen gave the Russians that word yesterday at the 204th meeting of the U.N. Disarmament subcommittee.

Citing historic miscalculations which played key roles in startling past wars, Stassen warned the Soviets against thinking the United States would not act with nuclear weapons if the situation demanded such steps.

Trinidad, an island off the coast of Venezuela, was first named here, "Land of the Hummingbird." It was discovered by Columbus in 1498.

Group Urges Federal Aid On Route 40

Fayette County Development Unit Asks Pa. Action

The inclusion of Route 40 between Hancock and Washington, Pa., in the federal Interstate Highway System is being urged by the Fayette County Development Council at Uniontown.

The council's statement follows action instituted in Cumberland. The Fayette County council said another east-west road is needed in the Interstate Highway System and that it should be Route 40.

Copies of the statement were sent to the governors and road bodies of both states and to Senator Edward Martin of Pennsylvania.

It pointed out that the 138 miles of Route 40 relegated to secondary status are part of the original "wilderness road" from Cumberland to Wheeling.

Route 40, including the 138-mile stretch, is needed, the council said, to carry present and anticipated east-west traffic.

Present plans, it said, call for Route 40 to be a part of the Interstate System from Baltimore to Hancock, where traffic would be diverted to the Pennsylvania Turnpike from the Breezewood to the New Stanton interchanges, then diverted back to Route 40 at Washington, Pa.

It said the turnpike is already approaching capacity and that national security would dictate an alternate route, since the tunnels are vulnerable to vehicle breakdowns, accidents and sabotage.

Maryland, the statement said, has officially requested that Route 40 from Baltimore to the Pennsylvania line be included in the interstate system.

It pointed out that Route 40 is Maryland's only east-west highway and that this state strongly objects to the diversion of traffic over the turnpike.

Pennsylvania, it said, is planning improvements costing $20,000,000 to Route 40 in Fayette County, including Summit Mountain and the Brownsville Bridge and approach. This expenditure, it said, would more than cover the entire cost of improving the 88-mile section in Pennsylvania if built as an interstate road, with the government providing 80 per cent of the funds.

The council said that if the omitted section is ever to become an interstate road, the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania must request it, adding:

"Even though it was not accepted as part of the first 40,000 mile system or part of the additional 1,000 miles now being allocated, we believe that this part of Route 40 must eventually be included."

The council urged that Pennsylvania ask for the mileage in the interstate system, that Maryland concur in the request, and that the Bureau of Public Roads make the necessary designation when and if additional mileage becomes available.

Mail Backlog Said 'Shaping Up'

Local mail service is "shaping up good" as employees of the Cumberland Post Office are "pulling out from under the load" which accumulated over the past weekend after an order of service curtailment by the Postmaster General because of lack of operating funds.

John B. Wolfhope, superintendent of mails, said the first class mail is "moving right along" and third class mail is in "good shape" at the Post Office. Meanwhile, it appears that normal postal service will be resumed shortly, since President Eisenhower yesterday signed the bill authorizing the operating funds of $41 million sought by Postmaster General Summerfield. On Monday the parcel post window at the local Post Office was swamped with business and periodically the second window was put into service.

The curtailment of service came at a time when people were mailing out parcel post packages containing Easter gifts. Also, a large number of Easter greeting cards have swelled the amount of mail being processed here.

Employees are keeping the mail on the move in order that Easter packages and cards will be delivered in time. Wolfhope pointed out yesterday it is expected that the official word will be received in the next day or so to resume normal service.

The accumulation of mail resulted when there was no delivery of mail last Saturday and no working of second and third class mail over the weekend.

Area Church Plans Easter Program

The Cherry Grove Church of the Brethren will present an Easter program on Sunday at 8 p. m. The first part of the program will be presented by the primary and junior Sunday school classes. The second part will be a pageant, "Thou Art The Christ," given by the CBYF group and the choir.

Local Students Begin Vacation

Students of LaSalle High, Catholic Girls Central and St. Patrick's started their Easter vacation yesterday, while other students of Allegany County will begin their holiday today.

St. Mary's School started the holiday at noon today while Ursuline Academy and SS. Peter and Paul's School closed classes this afternoon. All public schools in the county began their holiday at 3:30 p. m. All public and parochial school children will return to classes Wednesday morning, April 24.

This is the latest Easter since 1946 when the holiday was last previously observed on April 21. The last time Easter was later than April 21 was in 1943 when it fell on April 25.

For Air Safety

FIRST LOOK AT President Eisenhower's proposed air safety program gives rise to hope that it may approach in magnitude the scale of the safety problem itself. The program is the work of the President's aviation planning group headed by Edward P. Curtis, vice president of the Eastman Kodak Company. It reflects intensive study over a span of several months. The group is agreed that rules governing air traffic must be drastically revised to reduce or eliminate the mounting menace of mid-air collisions and to cope with the demands of coming jet planes. Recent surveys show that near misses are continuing on U.S. airlines at a rate of four a day.

TO MANAGE the available air space in a way which will wipe out this peril and adequately safeguard aircraft capable of flying 600 miles an hour, the President recommends a network of "aerial superhighways" with segregated traffic. Thus certain lanes would be set aside for high-speed planes, others for intermediate aircraft, and so on. This could be an important contribution to air safety, since evidence indicates that the most common danger of collision arises from fast planes overtaking slower craft. Poor cockpit visibility of course plays a part in such incidents. There is the very critical problem, too, of congestion in and around major airports in New York, Chicago, Washington, Los Angeles and similar centers.

OBVIOUSLY the President's group does not have the final answer to this and many other matters. In consequence Mr. Eisenhower is urging creation of a strongly independent airways modernization board to coordinate and advance air safety research. This agency would be given power over all present military and civilian research projects in aviation. It would have its own facilities for experimenting with electronic and other traffic control aids, including a special airport and perhaps 100 aircraft of all types. The Curtis group has reported quickly, thoroughly and imaginatively on a painfully serious national problem. Congress should do it and the President honor by acting on the proposed program in similar fashion. The jet age in commercial travel is but a year and a half away. And the consequences of delay could be written out in air-crash casualty lists.

Labor-Making Too

THIS IS THE AGE of electronic and mechanical marvels in the American household. To most of them—washing machine, dryer, dishwasher and the like—the phrase "labor-saving" is usually applied. There can't be much doubt that they do save labor. Their gleaming white facades represent a kind of daily miracle of work performed, permitting Mother to get out of the kitchen and in front of the TV set at an early hour. But there is a price to pay, and it's not just the cost of the equipment. Machines being machines, they sometimes fail. If Father is handy with tools, he may inevitably be pressed into service as chief engineer, and this can mean tinkering with a whole household of stuff. In fact, in his new book, "A Surfeit of Honey," author Russell Lynes says husbands who fix the household equipment constitute the "new servant class." Economic columnist Sylvia Porter notes, too, that repairs for these machines can deal a family some surprising blows. Usually family budgets are figured without these more or less unexpected outlays. The miracle may be real enough, but possibly Father and his pocketbook may need a little more convincing.

Proud Heritage

A ST. LOUIS charter board member wants the picture of an old steamboat removed from the city seal because it is an "archaic and outmoded symbol." Defenders of the steamboat call it a reminder of the city's "proud heritage." They might also ask who would favor pictures of modern officeholders to replace the faces of our historic great on the nation's currency and other official papers.

ONE PARENT wishes the TV Western heroes would make the point that young would-be marshalls can be dressed appropriately for Sunday school without holsters and six guns.

Prospects Of Tax Relief Are Some Better

WASHINGTON—Other impulses than its political appeal are at work in the growing movement in Congress for a tax cut to take effect beginning next January 1. For one thing, the prospect of tax reduction is being capitalized by those seeking to scale down the $71.8 billion Eisenhower budget. For tax cuts will be possible only if there are substantial economies in government.

In fact, savings in the budget and continuation of revenues at a high level were the conditions fixed for a tax cut by House Speaker Sam Rayburn when he announced his party's hopes of enacting a tax-reduction bill at this session.

THE TAX CUT cannot be calculated to stimulate public pressure on Congress to cut down the Eisenhower session.

Less is being said publicly about other impulses at work, and for obvious reasons, in one case.

This involves oil and takes us back to revelations a few days ago in the Senate by Senators George D. Aiken, Paul H. Douglas, John A. Carroll and John J. Williams that some of our big oil companies have paid no tax at all to our Treasury at one time or another in the last 10 years.

Some escaped taxes one year, others for two, three, four and five years. This is because of the 27½ percent depletion allowance as well as other deductions enjoyed by the oil industry.

You may remember that Williams and Douglas were trying to get a reduction in the depletion allowance. You will recall that they were not able to get even the handful of Senators required to force a roll-call vote to raise their hands, so cowed is the Senate by the oil industry.

WHILE THIS shameful episode did not get too widespread publicity, in some way the people seem to be finding out what Aiken said during the debate.

"I believe that when these enormous depletion allowances are given to one segment of our economy, it means that other people must dig into their pockets to make up for them."

There is no reason in the world why we should not get back enough of the depletion allowances on overseas operations of the great oil companies to give the small businessman and individual taxpayers some reduction in their taxes.

Among those alert to protect oil's tax privileges are the two most powerful men in Congress, both from Texas and both Democrats. They are Rayburn and Lyndon B. Johnson, party leader in the Senate.

The latter roared restlessly about the floor during discussion of the depletion allowance, to make sure there would be no record vote on whether this bonanza to oil should be reduced.

IT IS LIKELY that this blatant protection of oil's tax privileges may become embarrassing to those two party leaders. At any rate, it is a good time for them to be getting into the headlines as champions of a general tax reduction just when our people are worrying over their own tax returns and seeing how heavy is their burden compared to that of oil giants who can get off with paying nothing.

Maybe this will divert taxpayers; maybe it won't.

Another impulse for tax reduction

Glancing Sideways

NEW YORK—The way to know, sure and certain, that spring is here has nothing to do with the shy crocus poking its timid head above the new grass, or even with the soft yellow of mimosa making a sunny fuzz on its branches.

All you have to do is cock your head and listen for the sound of the psychologist making his annual bid for newspaper space and publicity. It's not exactly the voice of the turtle, but it is easy to hear.

The boys having been popping up in print like peach blossoms or aralea blooms, giving out with pseudo-scientific discoveries concerning man, and if any one man for woman tried to follow all the advice all the time the result would be chaos in a fortnight.

ONE SAYS THAT the reason why men crack up more than women do is because men do not cry enough, and he advocates a good cry for men as a saving device warranted to relieve emotions, quell tension and subdue anger.

Another says that the reason why there are more male alcoholics than women is because under stress or frustration man will reach for a blast instead of a boun.

Men get plastered to relieve their inhibitions and women eat chocolates. The result is that men become bums and women obese. It's hard to answer this fellow. I don't know which is worse, an alcoholic bum or a fat dame.

STILL A THIRD Johnny, elbowing his way to the publicity trough, says that men inherently hate their children and are only conditioned into the semblance of love for them while women innately love their children and often cannot be turned from that love no matter how monstrous the child becomes.

Still another one, working the alcoholic side of the street, says that men tend to become crafty and sly when under the power of drink while women become merely silly and ignoble. He's hard to answer, too. I've seen some dreadful idiots pretending to be crafty while loaded, and I've seen stoned women give out with celebrations unavailable to them while sober.

I think it is true that men fancy themselves as charming while drunk, while women always seem to be afraid someone will discover that they are drunk and often have enough sense left to shut up and sit quietly.

IN THE MOPPET department the psychologists run riot. Apparently, you can reach almost any daffy conclusion regarding behavior and psychoses in children and still be on safe, valid ground.

One set will tell you that children secretly respect and hunger for discipline, and another set will tell you that a light hand and free conduct are more desirable.

Some tell you that if you refuse little girls hot cereal on cold mornings they will not resent the mother who did the refusing but, somehow and complicatedly, will transform this into a father hatred. And he, poor devil, was probably miles away in the city all the time Tessy was being frustrated.

In any case, such a child can grow up distrustful and hating all men and almost certainly if she marries at all, will make life a living tragedy for her poor husband. The moral there seems to be to stuff little girls with hot cereal every morning. It's an easy cure for a future virago.

A THIRD SET dedicated to telling us poor mopes all about those mysteries called children, says that boys are the evil. Hard toys cause future psychiatric problems in the way of being unwilling to face life squarely and soft toys tend to produce weak, loose-willed adults in later life.

If you bundled all these dicta together and tried to bring a child up under all of them, you not only would automatically create a monster ready to spring at your throat, but a confused, sullen victim of too much book raising.

Even now a whole group of adults ranging between 27 and 34 years of age is demonstrating that the early incoherencies in progressive school education marked an entire generation.

The best way to handle these annual spring games as practiced by publicly-mad psychologists is not to read any of their guff and just go out and take a walk looking for the first crocus and the first bluebird. At least they can't muddle you. There is a nice simplicity about crocuses and bluebirds.

But Castanets Are Tricky

BARCELONA, Spain — There was this caballero, Don Alberto Puig, Spain's leading silk manufacturer, who likes gypsies. They are his hobby.

He said, with a certainty, if I wanted to learn how to dance the Flamenco, follow him. He said also that all day he labored in the silk factory and all night, or at least most of it, he spent watching his proteges perform.

We went to a place called the Little Cave. Don Alberto's Flamenco dancers were waiting.

The Little Cave really was little and also hot. Don Alberto and I took ringside seats, and I must say that when the Misses Pipo Panloja and Solea (who has only one name) swirled by, their skirts made an elegant breeze in our faces. This wind also did away momentarily with the smoke.

THESE LADIES were what you might call vigorous. They were dressed in white, lace-trimmed. Their partners, until I got into the act, were two young men in the tightest black pants you ever did see. They wore high-heeled boots.

When the performance was over, Senorita Pipo took me in hand, and my bride in far away McLean, Va., may be interested to know that my beautiful gypsy was the wife of Diego Panloja.

The seniorita, took care of my shoulder movements, while her husband specialized in trying to make my feet move properly. He said he did believe my only trouble was the wrong kind of shoes. Not enough heels.

HIS WIFE assured me, however, that I was the best-headed Flamenco dancer she'd ever seen. And also the first. Odd thing about it was that while trying to perform this most intricate of dances, I felt almost like I knew what I was doing. This, I think, was because La Pipo did all the work.

She whirled and brushed my cheek with the hem of her skirt, while I just stood there, holding her hand. Don Alberto, the papa of gypsies, expressed amazement. He said he had never seen anything like this before.

It was windy, but La Pipo requiring disclosures of stock ownership could be violated and that there is inadequate enforcement.

Legislation is now before Congress to force more U. S. stock companies to disclose ownership and change of control.

Meanwhile, negotiations are going on with the Swiss government through the U. S. State Department. A treaty which would allow Swiss banks to make stock ownership information available to the U. S. in compliance with its laws is being considered.

Reporter's Notebook

NEW YORK—Um—if a diamond is a girl's best friend, a pawnbroker's best friend is that same girl—after she gets the diamond.

"Sixty per cent of our clients are women," said Lou Modell, who is known as "the pawnbroker's pawnbroker" and operates the nation's top individually owned lock shop.

"Why? Because women are notorious for being able to spend more money accidentally than men can on purpose."

"Many rich women—even those with an income of $50,000 or more a year—will hook a piece of jewelry for $20,000, then take $20,000 and go out and buy another piece of jewelry with it."

"Career women aren't such regular clients because, to begin with, they usually are good businesswomen. Also, if they need money in a hurry, they usually have a boyfriend they can borrow from."

ONE OF MODELL'S most unusual loans was to a titled lady accused of stabbing a gent with a jeweled letter opener.

"The next morning she pawned the letter opener for $900 to bail herself out of jail," he said.

"Our busiest season is around income tax time," said Lou, who prides himself he will advance a hard-pressed executive up to $75,000 in cash in five minutes—if he can put up enough collateral.

He explained many executives prefer to deal with pawnbrokers rather than banks because the transaction is so confidential, and fast.

"Many have an idea that a pawnbroker is a blood-sucking Shylock fattening at the expense of the poor," said Lou.

"ACTUALLY pawnbroking is a dying industry all across the country." For every new pawnbroker who opens a new shop, five go out of business.

"Small loan firms, which can charge a higher rate in many instances and have a lower overhead, are taking much of our trade. We average only about one per cent net return on our investment."

"The best client is the big-salaried guy who is a good liver, and enjoys wine, women and song."

Lou said the idea that pawnbrokers make most of their profit by foreclosing on loans is exactly contrary to the facts.

"The operating theory is this, 'once a hocker always a hocker.' But once you have to foreclose on a client you usually lose him forever," said Lou.

What occupational group most often makes the trek to Modell's own shop?

"Jewelers," said Lou. "They borrow on the jewelry they have so they can buy more jewelry."

Washington Scene

WASHINGTON—I came up in the newspaper business in its less esthetic operations, covering shootings, cuttings, and other vulgarities—and whenever it was anything especially reprehensible I always seemed to run into a ward leader. With or without fat cigar, he would be dominating the hubbub in the police station, telling the thoroughly subservient captain or inspector:

"Release this fine boy immediately on a copy of the charge! What the heck! It's only first-degree murder!"

UNTIL THE OTHER DAY, I had a very definite picture of a ward leader in my mind, and it wasn't an adorable picture. Then I met a ward leader who can only be described as sweet. In fact, this ward leader is so sweet as to appear feminine.

Come to think of it, she is feminine! She is Rep. Kathryn E. Granahan, of Pennsylvania, who was elected last fall as the first woman Congressman from Philadelphia. But she refused to surrender her post as the Democratic leader of the 22d ward in West Philadelphia.

Instead of giving a beer picnic as the kickoff of her congressional campaign, she gave a tea.

You might get the idea from this that hers is a silk-stocking ward. Not so. It has many poor sections and is heavily integrated. Nevertheless the 72 ward committee member, who do the doorbell-pulling, elected this pleasant-faced lady to succeed her late husband.

But she swears she's never once done any of the things that I always seemed to see ward leaders doing—particularly in her section of West Philadelphia, where for a stretch I covered night police. She averred that never once has she tried to spring the prisoners in a dope raid on the ground that they were hard-working neighbor boys trying to earn a living.

I TOLD REP. Granahan I supposed she had gotten her political experience working with her husband. She laughed.

"I had no political experience whatsoever. Although my husband served five terms in Congress, I had never once been in his office here. And I knew less about politics in his ward."

"What prompted you to go after both his jobs?"

"I wanted to carry on my husband's work," she replied simply.

Mrs. Granahan feels she owes some of her success to never-changing hats in mid-campaign. She wore the same headpiece throughout—a beige satin beret.

"I still have it," she told me. "But I have had another hat experience since. I was a mad hatter on the opening day of Congress."

Mrs. Granahan did not make her reasoning too clear, but she said she always wears a hat to church, so she thought she should wear one to Congress. But when she was entering the chamber for the first time with a fine new flowered confection, Rep. Jere Cooper, of Tennessee, grabbed her and told her she must go in bareheaded.

"I BROODED ABOUT this," recounted Mrs. Granahan. "Finally I went to Louis Deschler, House parliamentarian, and demanded to know why a rule against women wearing hats in Congress had been passed. He admitted that none ever had."

"I thought I had him—but he showed me this passage in the House manual—'during sessions of the House, no member shall wear h-i-s hat.'"

"When the rule was adopted in 1831, it was inconceivable that a woman ever would be a Member of Congress. But the 'his' has been interpreted as also meaning 'her.'"

The ward leader asked me if I would care to join her in a cup of tea. I said "no," explaining that I wanted to go off by myself quietly and try to bring my conception of ward leaders more up to date.

24 Local Women Conclude Instruction As Gray Ladies

Twenty-four local women this afternoon became eligible for membership in the Gray Ladies Service of the Red Cross. The final class in a course of instruction was held in the office of Mrs. George W. Legge, executive secretary of the Allegany County Red Cross Chapter.

Those who completed the course were Mrs. J. E. Beatty, Mrs. Norman Fearnow, Mrs. A. J. Yockus, Mrs. Harold Peck, Mrs. George Newman, Mrs. Fred Borden, Mrs. Robert Meals, Mrs. Gertrude Kay, Mrs. Claude Nave, Mrs. W. J. Gross, Mrs. William Smith, Mrs. Charles Fisher, Mrs. George Deal.

Mrs. Joseph Feldstein, Mrs. John Mosner, Mrs. DeSales Glick, Mrs. R. L. Cope, Mrs. James Hallinan, Mrs. Ralph Leonard, Mrs. John Kienhofer, Mrs. John Moberly, Mrs. H. L. Sebra, Mrs. Earl Paul and Mrs. Edward Naughton.

The women have had six hours of hospital training and received two hours of instruction to Gray Lady service and Red Cross orientation by Mrs. Robert Gerson. The county chapter will send a report of eligibility to the Eastern Area Office in Alexandria, Va. and it will authorize the awarding of certificates.

Some 12 other local women qualified in such work include Mrs. A. G. Wallace, Mrs. George Abel, Mrs. Mortimer Nehring, Mrs. Allen Arnold, Mrs. Joseph Bender, Mrs. Thomas Jones, Mrs. John Gornall, Mrs. I. N. Evans, Mrs. Leo Wilson, Mrs. Donald Moffett, Mrs. Harry Grimes and Mrs. C. A. List.

Career Corner

By JOAN HANAUER

NEW YORK (INS)—Summer jobs boil down into three categories — those you do for fun, those you do strictly for spare cash and those which will help you in your future career.

Camp counseling is probably the favorite fun occupation for summer. Farm work is hard on the muscles but interesting for city-bred boys.

If you are looking for work where money is the main object, check the local newspaper ads carefully, keeping your own skills in mind. Do some "comparison shopping" and see what firms offer most.

Waiting on tables at summer resorts can be profitable and contain some fun at the same time. Basic pay is not high, but tips often are. Investigate the type of resort you are thinking of working at, since the higher the rates, the higher the tips usually are.

You can help your future career a great deal, providing you have a definite field in mind, by taking a summer job that will bring you into contact with that business.

Hard work and sharp eyes and ears will teach you how such an organization operates. Impressing those who may someday be your superiors with your intelligence and industriousness will provide you with valuable contacts. If you do not wind up working for the same firm, they can still give you helpful suggestions as to where to apply, as well as glowing recommendations.

Ellington, Schenker Run For Mayor

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — Democratic Mayor Arthur G. Ellington will seek his second term in the May 21 general election against Republican Samuel Schenker, a young attorney.

Both men were nominated in yesterday's primary balloting which saw the Democrats turn out in larger numbers than the Republicans.

Ellington, a retired Navy warrant officer, defeated former alderman Clarence A. Remaley 2,029 to 1,364 as 48 per cent of the city's 7,066 registered Democrats turned out.

Schenker won what some observers regarded as a surprise victory over former mayor Walter E. Quenstedt 747 to 709. Of the 3,951 registered Republicans, 37 per cent voted.

The only ward in which there was a contest in both parties for nomination for alderman was in the third. Thomas M. Shifanella, defeated Arthur W. Meleski for Keldin were among early voters in the nomination and F. Elmer Gelhaus unseated incumbent Robert C. Bean in the Democratic race.

California has the largest state membership in the Parents and Teachers Assn. in the U.S. with 1,529,756. Ohio is second with 657,829.

THE FOUNDATION COMES FIRST!

In building a house or a career, the foundation supports everything else. A Woodmen of the World 20-Year Endowment Plan will provide young men with a firm financial foundation. Its uses are numerous: to provide for the education of children, for special foreseeable expenses, or as a safe, secure investment.

The following table shows the growth of a $1-a-day investment in a Woodmen 20-Year Endowment Plan, based on age 25:

Immediate insurance, after only one payment	$7,647.00
$1 per day saved for 20 years	7,300.00
At the end of 20 years, cash value of certificate	$7,647.00
*Plus accumulated refunds	875.89
Total cash available at end of 20 years	$8,522.89
Gain in cash available at end of 20 years over total paid	1,222.89

*Based on present refund schedule and interest rate. Subject to variation.

Literature Group Hears Discussion On "Hamilton"

David Nozom, of the faculty of law, he maintained his interest in the new government viewed the book "Alexander," by Louis M. Hacker, at a meeting of the Literature Group of the Woman's Civic Club at the Club House. Mrs. Seth W. Harter presided.

Though he abhorred dueling he was challenged by Aaron Burr with the duel taking place at Weehawken on the same spot where Hamilton's eldest son met his death in a duel, three years before. Hamilton was mortally wounded and died July 13, 1804. His early childhood in the West Indies.

In 1772 Hamilton went to Boston and then to New York City where he attended Kings College. He became an ardent member of patriotic groups and wrote several pamphlets defending the rights of the Colonies for independence. He was a captain of artillery and one of General Washington's aides-de-camp in the Revolution.

In 1780 Hamilton married Elizabeth Schuyler, daughter of General Schuyler, member of a prominent New York family. In 1782 he represented New York in Congress, and was a signer of the Declaration of Independence. After Washington became president, he appointed Hamilton secretary of the treasury.

Returning in 1795 to New York City, Hamilton began the practice of law.

Report Given To Auxiliary Central WSCS

The W.S.C.S. of Central Methodist Church met recently at the church where a program, "The Lord's Prayer in Candles," was presented with Mrs. T. Cass Dye as reader and the following women forming the cross: Mrs. Bernard Valentine, Mrs. William Knight, Mrs. William Wasley, Mrs. George Johnson, Mrs. John Pfeiffer, Mrs. Harry Lewis, Mrs. E. B. Wirtig, Mrs. Harry Dixon, Mrs. Wallace Petrea, Mrs. Lee Shaw and Mrs. Frank Perdue.

Mrs. James Elliott sang "The Lord's Prayer," accompanied by Miss Patty Smith at the organ.

Mrs. Dye presided at the business session and a donation was given for special memberships for retiring District W.S.C.S. officers.

The Spring Fellowship will be held May 10 at the Air Gun Shrine Club with a luncheon. Mrs. William Knight can be contacted for tickets.

The annual birthday party of the W.S.C.S. will be held Friday, May 10 at 8 p.m. at the church. All church members will receive invitations and birthday bags to be filled with pennies for each year of age.

A musical program and refreshments will be featured. Chairmen for this affair are Mrs. Ernest Spriggs Jr. and Mrs. Dye, entertainment, Mrs. Dixon, refreshments and Mrs. R. J. Renschlein, invitations.

Mrs. Wallace Petrea, secretary of missionary education, reported that the religious Christmas cards recently sent by the Society to Miss Ruth Gross, deaconess in San Francisco, were welcomed by the Chinese children immigrants.

Mrs. James Elliott, secretary of student work, reported that 12 students and young people away from home are receiving personal letters and power booklets.

Mrs. Brady Installed Head Of Newcomers

The Newcomers Club installed officers at a luncheon at the Cumberland Country Club. Mrs. George Fisk, retiring president, officiated.

Mrs. G. D. Solomon, luncheon chairman, presented retiring officers with a gift in appreciation of their services to the club during the year.

Mrs. Fisk presented the new officers, Mrs. Lawrence K. Brady, president; Mrs. Theos Angelus, vice president; Mrs. G. D. Solomon, recording secretary; Mrs. James Haney, treasurer; and Mrs. Richard Solyard, corresponding secretary. Each new and retiring officer received a corsage.

Mrs. Brady introduced the following committee chairmen for the year: Mrs. Toly Bazakus, membership; Mrs. Russell Bragg, publicity; Mrs. Thomas Hollingsworth, hospitality; Mrs. Joseph Feeney, ways and means; Mrs. George Foster, hostess; and Mrs. Robert Perry, sunshine.

New bridge teams were announced and the following new captains will entertain at their homes tonight: Mrs. George Fisk, team 1; Mrs. Robert VanderVacht, team 2; and Mrs. Roy Hubble, team 3.

Mrs. Alice Coleman is head of the canasta group and the next meeting will be held April 24.

Bridge and canasta were played during the afternoon. Special prizes were awarded during the luncheon and there were table prizes for cards.

Mrs. Solomon, chairman of the luncheon, was assisted by Mrs. R. B. Adams, Mrs. Calvin Davis, Mrs. Josephine Eshelman, Mrs. Robert Garner, Mrs. Charles McKee and Mrs. Howard Turner.

Probing Interviews Mike Wallace 'Nightbeat' Makes Debut In Few Days

By JACK O'BRIAN

NEW YORK (INS)—The nation in a few days will receive its first bite of Mike Wallace's highly successful "nightbeat" character, when Mike's (Nightbeat) exchanges take to the ABC-TV network as "Mike Wallace Interviews."

Mike sure does interview. Some folks feel Mike interviews just a little too harshly, but we aren't among them.

Mike naturally has overstepped his bounds a few times, as anyone who goes at such realistic interviews so two-fistedly. But we don't hold with the detractors who insist Mike is attracting pure sensationalism, for his methods aren't unfair, nor his intentions a secret to anyone who sits still for a Mike Wallace inquiry.

Mostly Mike Wallace has given TV interviews a new dimension. He hasn't invented anything new, nor even different, only deeper, we'd say.

Does Them Better

Mike merely manages to do them better, with more depth and preparation and more firm intelligence and purpose than the fellows worrying about who did what first.

It's true Mike has dipped into some unusual-for TV—interviews, asking some pertinently, or imperpertently, if you please, couched queries about such once tabooed topics as homosexuality, dope addiction, the uncomfortably shocking marginal minutiae dug up or suggested by his certainly thorough research staff, headed by Ted Yates, who shifts to ABC-TV with Mike for his nationally sponsored interviews.

The effect on Mike Wallace's shows has been consistently fascinating and fair.

On the Suez question, for instance, Mike had both the Israeli and Egyptian sides facing his searching queries, and no one could guess from his line of questioning where Mike's own sympathies might lie, in either religious or ethnic fashion.

Fate Still In Future

What Mike's fate will be once his interviews take to the national audience is something else again.

The scoffers who claim only New Yorkers will accept the stark and the realistic in such interviews forget that backfences were invented before the television tube; before the radio microphone, and in fact before the printing press, and gossip and discussion is more easily distributed than the products Wallace advertises.

We haven't the remotest notion if Mike's ABC-TV network show will be a success, but it has just as good a chance of success nationally as it had locally.

Whether it will make its national mark is not today's determination, only that we hereby and herein select Mike Wallace's "Nightbeat" as the best television interview show of the 1956-57 season. In fact, of all the radio-TV seasons up to and including now.

WILKES-BARRE, Pa.—(INS)—Glen Alden Corp. reported today earnings in 1956 of $1,613,446, equal to 91 cents per common share, compared with $151,249, or nine cents a share, the previous year. Sales increased about $9,000,000 to $67,578,000. President Francis O. Case wrote shareholders the outlook for 1957 is better than in any year since he took office four years ago.

HOUSTON—(INS)—Transcontinental Gas Pipe Line Corp. announced today record revenue and earnings in the first quarter of 1957. Revenue climbed 5.6 per cent to $25,529,000 while income was up 31 per cent at $3,595,574, equal to 41 cents per common share compared with 30 cents a year earlier. Directors named Tom Walker to the newly-created job of board chairman and named E. Clyde McGraw to succeed him as president.

NEW YORK—(INS)—Record sales but reduced earnings in 1956 were made public today by M. Lowenstein & Sons, Inc. The textile firm said sales reached $440,414,000, up 35 per cent from 1955, but net dropped to $5,665,456, or $1.98 per share, from $8,102,137, or $2.76 a share, the previous year.

Mary Haworth's Mail

Editor's Note: Childless widow asks how to deal with problem drinking in her admirer.

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: I am a childless widow, 46, happy and contented in my present mode of life, operating a successful business. I've had several opportunities to re-marry but didn't care enough to take the step.

However, for the past year I've been dating Henry, a widower whose wife died four years ago. I had known them both for 10 years previously, though not intimately.

Henry is kind, generous, thoughtful, civic minded and successful, and we have many interests in common. Family and mutual friends have urged me to accept his marriage proposal, but we are in conflict about his drinking, and things came to a head recently.

On several occasions I've observed his inability to handle liquor, along with other men in the group. He "saturates" very quickly, and I've explained that while I don't object to a few drinks—if one can handle them—I think he should recognize his limitation and learn to stay within it.

Man Says Love Is Protective

Henry takes the attitude that he is entitled to a little fun and if a woman loves a man (as his wife loved him, he intimates), she will overlook the lack of balance and take care of him.

When we were dining out not long ago his drunken behavior embarrassed me considerably, but we didn't discuss it then, due to his condition. Some days later we were to dine out again, and when he called for me, he was glassy-eyed and weaving. I was disgusted and annoyed and said I was sorry but couldn't go with him in his condition, frankly I feared embarrassment and humiliation.

He hasn't called me since, nor tried to make amends, which doesn't disturb me. But I am wondering how other women would have met the situation. Many must have it to meet, from what I observe in today's society.

Underestimates
Her Good Sense

DEAR V. P.: Actually there is no constructive middle ground on which to meet the problem drinker who refuses to face his handicap and treat it realistically. Either you get illogically involved in his problem with him, or you see it objectively and keep yourself out of it. In which case he is likely to take offense at your unfettered detachment, and seek other more gullible (allegedly) while I don't object to a few drinks—if one can handle them—I think he should recognize his limitation and learn to stay within it.

So don't underestimate the good common sense of your blunt reaction to Henry's glassy-eyed appearance the other evening. You met the situation as it should have been met, all things considered.

As for what other women might have done, who feel obliged to strive for harmony with problem drinkers—it is one thing to try to adjust when lashed to the mast of necessity; and another thing to have freedom of soul and free scope, in dealing with a potential nuisance.

Fortunately you are in the latter category, as regards Henry—since you aren't his wife, don't respect him, and can't love a man whom you don't respect (you say).

Man's Fade-Out
Compliments Her

The fact that Henry faded out and stays away, making no effort to patch things up, is rather to your credit, I think. It suggests that he knows he's as weak and as wrong as you hold him to be—in wearing blindfolds about his drink problem. And that he has found you to be a consistently admirable character—hence he has no comeback.

The average problem drinker has a chip on his shoulder about his weakness; and being weak, he tends to be difficult in his sentimental relationships—tenacious, tyrannical and quarrelsome if opposed.

He tends especially to be aggressively disagreeable if faced with disapproval; thus Henry's silent retreat from your annoyance is a real compliment to your personality, I think. It implies that you have considerable stature in his eyes.

If Henry want coddling of his frailty—and he evidently does—you aren't the woman for him. This isn't to say that you aren't the protective type; but only that you'd have to figure the man was worth your sacrifice. And you don't feel that Henry is worth the price he asks; which means that he isn't, in your psychological budget.

Mary Haworth counsels through her column, not by mail or personal interview. Write to her in care of "The Evening Times" (King Features Syndicate).

Accused Slayer Of Common Law Wife Ends Police Search; Gives Himself Up

FERNDAL, Md. (AP) — A two-state search for a man charged with murder ended abruptly late yesterday when a lanky sewer worker surrendered here at Anne Arundel County police headquarters.

Chief Wilbur C. Wade said Alfred Fiddazzo, 38, walked into the police station less than 12 hours after a warrant had been issued charging him with the murder of his common-law wife, Mrs. Marcia June Novak Fiddazzo, 27.

The attractive woman's body was found early yesterday in her home near Pasadena, a lidewater community 10 miles north of Annapolis. A blue necktie was knotted tightly about her neck.

Police said Fiddazzo had lived in the house with her about six years.

Mrs. Fiddazzo's body was found beneath a bunk bed, hidden by a drapery — only after police checked the premises several times. Police obtained the murder warrant after extensive questioning of the victim's 10-year-old son.

Persistence of neighbors and friends of Mrs. Fiddazzo led to discovery of her body.

Neighbors called Monday morning and asked officers to check the bungalow, but police found nothing out of the ordinary after peering in windows of the locked house.

Your Horoscope

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

For Thursday, April 18, 1957

MARCH 21 to APRIL 20 (Aries) — Concentrate on giving your work definite shape, direction that will eliminate waste motion and promote systematic, efficient procedure. This is as important in everyday matters as in big projects.

APRIL 21 to MAY 21 (Taurus) — Do not be satisfied with mediocre achievement. Your talents and opportunities warrant more. Your innate sense of honor and integrity will figure in your plans now.

MAY 22 to JUNE 21 (Gemini) — Give joy in "little" ways to those who work with or for you. This includes family members on whom one often vents irritation while holding back with outsiders. Be calm, considerate.

JUNE 22 to JULY 21 (Cancer) — Things usually termed "drudgery" or "uninteresting" may be just what the doctor ordered for today. Attend promptly to whatever "menial" tasks face you. They are part of everyone's life. And keep smiling.

JULY 22 to AUGUST 21 (Leo) — Just when one thinks that everything's under control, a new setback occurs. The smart person takes his stride, works it out serenely. Worrying accomplishes nothing. Remember this.

AUGUST 22 to SEPTEMBER 21 (Virgo) — Keep pace with events and put your best foot forward. Don't let obstacles irritate you or new chances escape you. The day will run more smoothly if your efforts are unselfish.

SEPTEMBER 22 to OCTOBER 21 (Libra) — Base your work and appraisals on fact, solid background, not hearsay or intimations. If you act wisely in this regard, improvement will be forthcoming.

TO TALK HERE—Miss Janet Waehrer, India, will be one of three missionaries to preach at the Christian and Missionary Alliance Church on Wallace Street this week. Miss Waehrer will speak on "Go ye into all the world and preach the gospel to every creature" on Sunday at 10:45 a. m. service. Rev. Ivan E. Lay, Indonesia, and Rev. Paul E. Carlson will also preach at the services planned Thursday, Friday and Saturday at 7:30 p. m. Movies will be shown at the services.

Emigration from Denmark increased considerably during the past year, mostly to Canada, Australia and New Zealand.

Attorney Claims Speeding Count Unconstitutional

BALTIMORE (AP)—A Washington attorney picked up for speeding on a federal section of state road contends his arrest, and all others like it, was unconstitutional.

Judge Roszel C. Thomsen heard partial arguments in U. S. District Court yesterday after the lawyer, George C. Deos, pleaded innocent to the speeding charges. He was given a speeding ticket by a federal radar crew last August near the Laurel-Bowie interchange of the Baltimore-Washington Expressway.

Deos contends the Constitution gives the federal government no right to police roadways constructed over land acquired by a state. The government argues that federal portions of highways can be policed by federal officers though not originally federal property. The case will be tried later.

A Salt Lake City correspondent writes: "Here is a hand that is still causing a lot of discussion in our duplicate club. Every table reached seven spades but as you can see, seven no-trump is just as easy a contract and I wonder why we all fell down on these extra 10 points that would have meant a top score for anyone who went after it."

"I sat North and was sure we had a slam the moment my partner responded with two spades. I temporized with three spades and when he asked for aces by bidding four no-trump I jumped right to the grand slam. I did not want to take the slight chance that he might pass if I had shown my three aces by means of a five-spade bid. I feel that he could have bid seven no-trump over by seven spades. How right am I?"

The answer to this man is that he is very right. South might well have tried the grand slam in no-trump after North's jump to seven spades.

South could definitely have marked North will all three missing aces on his jump to seven. In that case South could count 12 tricks as follows: six in spades, two in hearts, three in diamonds and one in clubs. He could also be certain that North would hold the king of clubs. After all he (South) held the three other kings.

Finally, South might have gone one step further and reasoned that seven no-trump might be even safer than seven spades. The opening lead might be ruffed at a spade contract whereas it could not be at no-trump.

Mount Of

five monks who spend their lives working and praying. These monks live off the produce of their own farm down in the Jordan Valley.

The rock of the mountain forms one wall and most of the ceiling of the long, narrow monastery. Underneath a dome at one end of the building is a chapel and the grotto where Christ is believed to have lived during His 40-day fast and where He was tempted the first time. A small, stone-hewn altar between two tall brass candlesticks marks the exact spot where Satan tempted the fasted Christ to turn stones into bread.

A heavy iron gate opens through a rock wall to allow passage out of the monastery and on up the mountain toward the summit, where Christ was tempted for the second time. The monastery guards the approach to the top, since it stands astride the only path to the summit.

Although the Mount of Temptation is shaped like an inverted cone, its peak flattens out as if nature had prepared a small platform for the Biblical drama between Christ and Satan. The foundations of a modern Orthodox church are here among the debris of ruined medieval chapels. Work has stopped on the modern church because of shortage of funds.

Continually Guarded

In the solitude of this site a lone guard sits night and day. From this summit can be seen the misty mountains across the Jordan River—the mountains of Moab to the north and Edom to the south. Directly beneath the mountain lies the Jordan plain, green with irrigated cultivation around Jericho and in a few isolated spots but otherwise desert.

The distant peaks of the hills of Galilee may be glimpsed in the northwest. Directly west the tips of the tallest church spires of Jerusalem may be seen.

It was from this summit that Satan whispered to Christ, "If Thou therefore shalt worship me, all shall be Thine." And it was here that Christ replied: "Get thee behind me, Satan: for it is written, thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and Him only shalt thou serve."

SRC Decision Seen Saving To Baltimore

BALTIMORE (AP)—Baltimore City will save as much as $100,000 as a result of the State Roads Commission's decision to speed up purchases of right-of-way for the Northeastern Expressway.

Bernard L. Werner, city water engineer, said the savings will come in the cost of right-of-way for a proposed water pipeline from Baltimore to the Susquehanna River.

The new State land-purchase schedule will enable the city to purchase right-of-way along the route of the expressway, Werner said.

The expressway and the pipeline will follow parallel routes from Aberdeen to a point north of Fullerton where a new reservoir is to be constructed.

Earlier this year when the SRC encountered delays in its expressway plans the city announced it would go ahead on its own and absorb a $100,000 loss in the cost of land. At that time the loss wasn't considered sufficient to delay the $37,000,000 pipeline that will provide a water source to meet the city needs until the year 2000.

ABL Workers To Get Long Easter Holiday

Employees at Allegany Ballistics Laboratory will observe a four-day holiday over the Easter weekend as both Good Friday and Easter Monday will be holidays. Only those employees who are scheduled for regular work or who are assigned special duties will report for work on those days. Work will resume as usual at 8 a. m. Tuesday, April 23.

Prolonged Construction Strike Has First Break

BALTIMORE (AP)—A new contract for electrical workers and masons, effective today, was the first break in the Baltimore area's prolonged construction strike.

Frank C. Ellis, president of the Baltimore Building and Construction Trades Council, announced a new one-year contract for electrical Local 28 with the National Electrical Contractors Assn. Ellis said bricklayers and masons Local 1 also came to terms with one of three local independent general contractors. The other two firms were not included because representatives were out of the city, he said.

Eves Reports On Hospital Food Buying

Notes More Meals Served At Less Cost In 1956 Operation

Mayor Roy W. Eves today reported on his investigation into charges by a local wholesale produce man that Memorial Hospital was buying most of its produce from a Pennsylvania firm.

Mike Dusic, the wholesaler, has made the statement on several occasions at meetings of the Mayor and Council.

Mayor Eves pointed out that when Memorial Hospital employees were brought under Social Security recently, the court ruled that the city does not operate the hospital. It is operated by an autonomous board of capable professional and businessmen, he said, with the mayor of Cumberland and a member of the Board of Allegany County Commissioners as ex officio members. The city of Cumberland provides grounds and buildings for the hospital and is not responsible for maintenance.

Listed Figures

In referring to Dusic's statements that his sales to the hospital had been greatly reduced, the mayor listed these figures as concerned with produce purchased by the hospital:

In 1951, with three wholesale produce houses in Cumberland, Dusic got 85 per cent of the business.

In 1952 with two produce houses, he got 90 per cent.

In 1953 with two houses, Dusic's share amounted to 83 per cent.

In 1954 with three houses again, his share was 89 per cent; in 1955 it was 62 per cent and in 1956 it amounted to almost a third or 26 per cent.

Watch Costs Closely

The mayor said it is thought quality of produce used by the hospital in the past year has improved and at the same time, he pointed out that in 1956 there were approximately 21,000 more meals served to hospital patients than the year previous at a reduction in cost of $11,500.

This, Mayor Eves says, "indicates costs are being watched more closely by the hospital's management."

Inasmuch as council is not responsible for operation of the hospital, Eves said he does not feel it falls upon council to make a report to Dusic. However, he said he would submit the result of his findings to members of the municipal body when it meets in regular session Monday.

1957 Cancer Drive Goal Is $10,000

Allegany County has not been assigned a quota in the 1957 Cancer Crusade by the state organization, Maryland Division, Inc. American Cancer Society, but it is the hope of William Walsh, president of the Allegany County Chapter, and other officials of the county group that at least $10,000 will be raised in the two-phase drive being arranged.

"State officers realize that our setup is comparatively new compared to the better and longer organized chapters in Washington County and other counties of the state," Walsh added, "and have put us on our own in the matter of raising funds."

"We raised slightly more than $7,000 in 1956," Walsh continued, "and we've set $10,000 as our goal this year. This is less than half the amount being raised in Washington county, which has about the same population as Allegany, but we're hoping to make steady increases each year until our county matches others of similar size dollar-for-dollar."

"We are limiting our campaign to special gift solicitations and a door-to-door canvass. Hundreds of women will knock on doors Wednesday, May 1, to accept donations, and the groundwork for special gifts has been laid by mailing approximately 1,000 letters to professional men, teachers, industrial plants, business men, labor organizations, fraternal groups and payroll deduction setups."

"We have been getting some response to these letters, but it isn't unusual for appeal letters to be overlooked and plans provided for special gift division workers to make personal calls between Monday, April 22, and Tuesday, April 30. Morton W. Peskin Jr. has accepted the chairmanship of this division and will soon announce the names of a score of captains."

Lonaconing Woman Injured In Fall

A 60-year-old Lonaconing woman was admitted to Memorial Hospital yesterday afternoon after being injured in a fall at her home.

Hospital attaches said Mrs. Jean Izatt, wife of Thomas Izatt, 71 Douglas Street, sustained injury to her right hip and left ankle in the fall.

Honor Group Names Heads At Allegany

Charles Diehl has been elected president of Allegany High School Chapter of the National Honor Society.

Other officers named at a recent meeting are Emily Tucker, vice president; Helen Wanless, secretary; Neil Phillips, treasurer; and Beth DeHaven, historian. All are members of the junior class and will serve for the 1957-58 school year.

Diehl is a trombonist in the school orchestra. He was a member of the all-county orchestra and was a member of a trombone trio in the Senior Band concert.

Miss Tucker is a member of the Senior Band, Tri-Hi-Y, United Nations Club, Alpha Delta Kappa, Dramatic Club, Future Teachers of America, Senior Choral Club and is class representative.

Miss Wanless is Senior Band majorette, secretary of the junior class, active in United Nations Club, Alpha Delta Kappa and Future Teachers of America. She played in a clarinet trio in the Senior Band concert.

Phillips' activities include Tri-Hi-Y, French Club, Senior Boys' Glee Club, Senior choir and the varsity basketball team.

Miss DeHaven participates in Senior Choral Club, Senior Choir and Band, and the Luther League at her church.

For the past year, the school chapter has been under the leadership of Thomas Ward, Perry Shelton, Wanda Ullery, Robert Bromery and Louise Mikin, president, vice president, secretary, treasurer and historian, respectively.

Mrs. Mary Hinze, head of the English Department, has been sponsor since the chapter was organized in 1955. Assisting her are Miss Margaret Baker, Miss Betsy Ross Rankin, Miss Olive P. Simpson and Fay A. Curry.

Chemists To Hear Talk On Satellite

The Western Maryland Section of the American Chemical Society will hold a dinner meeting today at 8 p.m. at the Alf Ghan Shrine Country Club.

The speaker will be Richard Winer, supervisor of the Rocket Development Department at the Allegany Ballistics Laboratory, who will discuss the U. S. Earth Satellite Project and in particular the missile which will launch the satellite into space.

Winer received his bachelor's degree in chemical engineering from the University of Illinois and has done graduate work at Virginia Polytechnic Institute. He has been employed by the Hercules Powder Company 15 years, and prior to coming here in 1946 was stationed at the firm's research center, Radford Arsenal in Wilmington, Del.

The dinner and meeting will be open to non-members of the society.

Youth Elected To College Post

John Miller of Burlington, W. Va., has been elected vice president of the Student body of Bridgewater College.

A Cumberland student, Thomas Rotruck, lost out in a close election for the presidency of the Student body.

Miller is a son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Wayne Miller. A pre-med student in the junior class, he served as class president in his sophomore class, and is president of the Science Club and a member of both the Student and Honor councils.

Railroad Lets Contract For Two Towers

The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad has let contracts for the construction of two signal towers on the Cumberland Division east of here.

One is located at Patterson's Creek and the other at the Mexico Farms Road, according to F. F. Schill, division engineer for the Cumberland Division.

The contractor for the two three-story towers is the George F. Hazelwood Company of this city.

William A. Douglas, president of the Hazelwood firm, said the foundation has been poured for the Patterson Creek tower and work will start soon on the Mexico Farms Road job.

The latter is located in the midst of the big yard expansion project of the railroad and is near Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company's North Branch plant.

The Patterson Creek tower, which replaces a wooden one, will be made of brick. The first two floors will be 40 feet by 14 feet and the third floor, 24 feet by 14 feet.

It will contain a maintenance room, operator's room, relay room, battery room and boiler room.

The Mexico Farms Road tower will be similar to this one, Douglas reported.

EASTER SEAL LUCKY BUCKS NEEDED NOW

The next 179 bucks mailed for Easter Seals will be lucky for crippled children in Allegany county because that's the number of dollars needed to make the 1957 seal campaign total $7,000.

Over 23,000 residents of Allegany county received Easter Seals in the mail a month ago, and a check this morning showed $5,821 had been received in returns at headquarters.

Much more than $7,000 is needed, however, to finance treatment of crippled children in this section, and it is hoped that at least $10,000 will be received during the Easter season this year.

Don't hold back if you have not yet mailed your money for the seals. It's possible that the back you haven't returned is the dollar that will be needed to reach this year's goal.

Area Accident Victim Dies

Adel C. Harden, 67, San Diego, Calif., a retired Marine Corps colonel, who was involved in a two-car accident Saturday on the Pennsylvania Turnpike in Somerset County, died on Monday in a Washington hospital.

Harden was traveling with his wife, Mrs. Clara M. Harden, when the car Mrs. Harden was driving crossed the medial strip and crashed into another car driven by William M. Keelin, Philadelphia. The accident occurred in Allegheny Township, Somerset County.

Turnpike Police at Everett said Harden and his wife were taken to Bedford County Memorial Hospital and later transferred to a Washington hospital.

Police said Harden had been suffering from a severe asthmatic condition, and the injuries sustained in the accident were slight and not sufficient to cause the death.

Mrs. Harden was also transferred to the Washington hospital, while Keelin was not injured in the head-on crash.

He Was Here 'Mount Of Temptation' Looks On Two Nations

EDITOR'S NOTE: On a solitary mountaintop in what once was Palestine, a lone guard sits day and night gazing down on Jordan and Israel. According to tradition, the spot he guards was the scene of the showdown between Christ and Satan which came at the end of Christ's 40-day fast. Here is a report on a media visit to the site of that famous biblical drama.

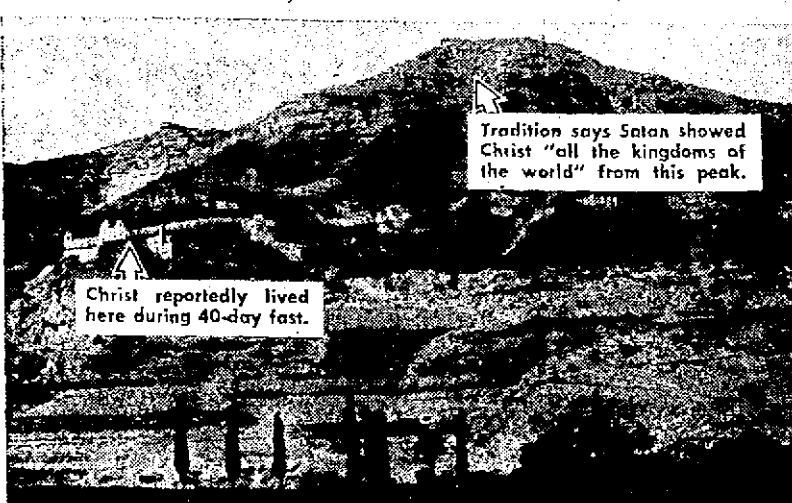

By WILTON WYNN

MOUNT OF TEMPTATION.

Jordan (R) — When Christ was shown "all the kingdoms of the world" by Satan, he was according to local belief — standing on this mountain peak which rises 2,000 feet out of the Jordan River valley.

The peak is called the "Mount of Temptation" by those who live here. From its summit you can't see all the world, but the mountain offers a glimpse of two independent countries, Jordan and Israel, and enough of a view to be tempting.

It is generally agreed that the temptation of Christ by Satan occurred immediately after his baptism, when he was "led by the spirit into the wilderness" for a fast of 40 days. Local tra-

A road from Jericho halts at the foot of the Mount of Temptation. The climb to the top is made on foot. A rocky footpath zigzags up the side of the conical, so barren and uninviting that shaped peak.

Church Group Will Conduct Class Work

Methodist Leaders Plan Program Here For April 27

Outstanding leaders in church school work in the Baltimore Conference of the Methodist Church will conduct observation classes for teachers and workers of Methodist church schools of the Cumberland area Saturday, April 27, from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. in Centre Street Methodist Church.

The theme will be "The Use of the Bible With Children," and those attending will have an opportunity to observe the conference leaders teaching classes of children from Centre Street Methodist Church.

Following the classes will be discussion, evaluation and planning sessions.

The instructors will be: Nursery, Mrs. Ruth Baer, director of children's work for the Baltimore East District.

Kindergarten, Miss Katherine M. Smith, director of Christian education at St. Mark's Methodist Church, Baltimore.

Primary, Miss Martha Bennett, superintendent of the church school of Loch Haven Methodist Church and an elementary school principal in Baltimore.

Junior, Dr. Mary Alice Dooty, executive secretary of the Baltimore Conference Board of Education of the Methodist Church.

These four women are instructors at the Baltimore Conference laboratory school held at Westminster each summer.

Plans for the observation classes are under the direction of Mrs. R. J. Reuschlein, city director of children's work for the Hagerstown District, and Mrs. E. E. Loar, superintendent of the Children's division of Centre Street Methodist Church School.

Summer Rec Job Plans Formulated

The Recreation Department will distribute application forms for summer jobs on playgrounds and ballfields next week.

Mrs. Eva M. Hogan, assistant rec director, said the forms will be available Monday so that students home from college may avail themselves of the opportunity.

The recreation director, N. Gwynn Fletcher, and program assistant, Gene Mason, are in Wheeling today to observe activities at Oglebay Park.

The Allegheny-Garrett Chapter of the Maryland Heart Association cannot, because of National Heart Association policy, join the County United Fund Inc. being organized here for a one-drive fund.

This information was relayed to United Fund officials at a meeting with Heart Association officers last night in the latter organization's office.

Attending were Brian O'Connell, of the Maryland Heart Association office in Baltimore; Mrs. Ora Mae Lewis, Allegheny-Garrett executive secretary; Ernest M. Treat, Allegheny-Garrett president; Joseph M. Miller and Woodward D. Peeler, chairman and a member, respectively, of the United Fund administration committee; and Thomas W. Miller, campaign consultant.

Contrary To Policy

O'Connell reported that if a local chapter joins a united fund, its charter will be dissolved and all national services discontinued.

"The national policy will allow the acceptance of money from intraplanet united giving campaigns this year."

Yesterday, the county chapter of the Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation received authorization to join the County United Fund, the first national health and welfare organization to join.

All of the old Community Chest agencies have agreed to join the one-campaign group.

And yesterday afternoon a citizens' committee met at Oldtown High School to organize a local chapter of the County United Fund.

The Garden Club will award a special plaque to the exhibit selected as the "Best of Show." Last year's winner was Mrs. Robert Ebert for a table setting "Breakfast for Two."

Additional awards by the Federated Garden Club of Maryland will be two white sweepstakes ribbons in the horticultural and arrangement divisions.

The winners will be selected on the basis of the number of points won, with the specification that ribbons must be won in three different classes.

Mrs. Henderson said blue ribbons will count five points; red ribbons, four; yellow, three; and white, two points.

In preparation for the show, the Garden Club is sponsoring a workshop for its Junior Department on Wednesday at Central YMCA. The program will run from 3:30 to 5 p. m. under direction of Mrs. Ralph Istinger, workshop chairman, and Mrs. Gilbert Miller, president, of the Garden Club.

Manslaughter Trial Starts

A hearing in the manslaughter case against Thomas A. Darr, 64, of 349 Bedford Street, began this morning in Allegany County Circuit Court before Chief Judge George Henderson.

Darr was indicted by the January grand jury in the death last December 15 of Carl P. McDonald, a passenger in Darr's vehicle when it collided with another car operated by Mrs. George C. Fey. The collision took place on U. S. Route 40, about a tenth of a mile beyond the city limits on Long Hill.

The mishap occurred at approximately 11 p. m. on the evening of December 15 and police reports at the time indicated Darr was driving toward Cumberland, while the Fey vehicle was eastbound.

Darr sustained a compound fracture of the jaw, fractured pelvis, knee injuries and lacerations and was unable to report for trial during the January term of court. Mrs. Fey and daughter, Annette Fey, were also injured.

State's Attorney Paul M. Fletcher is handling the prosecution. The first witnesses called were Trooper Robert Wolford of the LaVale State Police, who handled the initial investigation, and Edwin R. Lilya, county investigator.

Both men identified various photographs relating to the scene of the accident and character of the road, while Lilya also read a statement which Darr had volunteered after the accident.

Darr is being represented by Edward J. Ryan.

Minister To Address Local Civitan Club

The Cumberland Civitan Club will hold a dinner meeting tomorrow at 6:30 p. m. at Central YMCA. The speaker will be Rev. W. Randolph Keefe Jr., pastor of Grace Baptist Church, who will talk on the significance of the Easter story.

The winners of the citizenship essay contest sponsored by the club will be announced. Title of the essay subject was "The Home-First School of Citizenship."

Men's Club Will See Magician

William Hay, magician, will entertain the Men's Club of Centre Street Methodist Church when it meets in the church recreation hall Wednesday, April 24 at 6:30 p. m.

Also on the program is a safety film "And Then There Were Four" to be shown by Lynn Walker through courtesy of the Maryland Traffic Safety Commission.

Members of Circles 1 and 4, WSCS, will serve dinner.

Cigarette Licenses Will Be Sold Here

Special retailers' cigarette licenses are being sold at the Court House this year, according to Joseph E. Boden, clerk of court.

Boden said in the past the licenses were obtained by retailers from the state comptroller's office in Baltimore but this year are being sold here. They cost $2.50.

Only exception to the procedure is that persons who handle cigarette vending machines for 40 or more premises will continue to obtain their permits from the comptroller's office. They are required by May 1.

West Virginia To Have Mixed Time System

Huntington Among Places To Remain On Standard Schedule

By The Associated Press
All indications point to a mixed-up pattern of Eastern Standard and Daylight Saving time for West Virginia beginning April 23. Daylight time has been limited largely to the Northern Panhandle and Eastern Panhandle since World War II, but Charleston, Morgantown and Beckley have indicated they will join the fast time ranks April 23.

Huntington's city council last night voted against a daylight saving time proposal, 2-2. The vote, originally scheduled for last Monday, was taken after sentiment at a public hearing on the issue was shown to be strongly against DST.

Kingwood Daylight
Kingwood will be a fast-time town, while Wheeling, Weirton, Moundsville and other Northern Panhandle communities will go on DST as in the past.

Charles Town will not switch to daylight time until May 26, after school is out for the summer. Eastern Panhandle communities Martinsburg and Berkeley Springs will change April 28, but other towns in the area will remain on standard time.

Cities expecting to remain on standard time include Parkersburg, Fairmont, Logan, Williamson, Bluefield, Welch, Princeton and Clarksburg.

Payette County communities have yet to indicate adoption of fast time, but Mount Hope Mayor W. B. Rock said his city council favors daylight time if a majority of the county's communities desire it.

On County Basis
Kanawha County's Board of Education has indicated it will adopt Eastern standard or daylight time on a county-wide basis. A dual time system would complicate transportation of 20,000 children daily on 103 school buses.

Seven Kanawha County communities besides Charleston adopted fast time. Charleston city council announced it would favor the time change on the condition that a majority of the county's 12 municipalities do the same.

A meeting of the State Board of Public Works today may decide whether the state capital offices in Charleston will conform to the city's use of DST.

Standard time schedules for railroads and bus companies other than local lines will remain intact. Atlantic Greyhound said it plans to publish bus schedules on standard time, but would make adjustments to accommodate patrons commuting to work in Daylight Saving Time areas such as Charleston.

Airlines will list local time for wherever flights are scheduled, whether it be fast or standard time.

Coney Junior 4-Hers Plan May Program

LONACONING — The selection of a queen and princesses was made at the regular meeting of the Junior 4-H Club last evening at the VFW Home.

Beverly Ann Wattenscheidt was chosen to reign as queen at the May Day program next month. Elected as princesses were Catherine Inskeep, Betty Ann Kirkwood, Kaye Trost, Mary Lee Brant, Peggy Mooney and Ruth Crawford.

Miss Mary P. Wise, county home demonstration agent, gave a talk on "What Colors You Should Wear To Harmonize With Your Complexion and Hair." Plans were made to hold a skating party tomorrow evening.

Seek Council Posts
Two incumbent councilmen and a former commissioner are the first to enter the political arena for the May 7 election of a mayor and four councilmen for this community.

Robert M. "Lefty" Grove and John G. Thomas, both now ending their first two-year terms on the council, will seek re-election, according to Robert B. Thomas, town clerk. He said Douglas Waddell, a former councilman who served some 20 years, also will seek election. Waddell was defeated in the regular election in 1955 and in a special election to fill a vacancy in the fall of the same year.

Candidates for mayor and council have until 9 p. m. April 27 to file their candidacies with the town clerk. Each must submit a petition containing the names of two per cent of the 900 qualified voters. Each petition should have about 20 names.

Persons who desire to register so they can vote in the May 7 election must do so in the council chamber tomorrow between 9 a. m. and noon, 1 to 5 p. m. and 7 until 9 p. m.

First Methodist Church Selects Drive Leaders

KEYSER — Rev. Charles W. Paskel, pastor of First Methodist Church, yesterday announced the officers who will head the church remodeling and debt eradication campaign.

The official board elected Harold J. Snyder, general chairman; Raymond L. Wolford, vice chairman; Dr. E. V. Romig, chairman of the advance gift committee; and J. L. Shoy, vice chairman. S. M. Bright will head the survey and evaluation committee while Mrs. Wayman Wilson will have charge of the meeting arrangements committee.

Men selected to head the three divisions of the team organization are: Division A, Frederick E. Dayton; Division B, Harrison Fuller and Division C, Herschel M. Hedrick. These leaders will select five team captains each and the captains in turn three workers each.

The campaign will run through May 11. The goal will be set this week following the work of the survey committee.

The purpose of the appeal is to remodel the wing now used as a Sunday School, providing new classrooms. The main church auditorium will have the floor raised and a new chancel provided. The front of the church will be rebuilt, providing new entrances.

The campaign is under the direction of the National Fund Raising Services, Inc., of Fort Worth, Texas, with F. W. Maalof of the Eastern Shore of Maryland directing the campaign.

Brief Mention
Mrs. Pearl Gardner is seriously ill at her home on St. Cloud Street.

Mrs. Pearl Miller is ill with the flu at her home in McCoole.

Barbara Lee Sirbaugh is confined to her home with chicken pox.

Mrs. Leola King, who has been ill since February 23, is still confined to her home on New Creek Drive.

Miss Virginia Welton underwent surgery at Memorial Hospital, Cumberland.

Mrs. Mary M. Hohing of Pittsburg, sister of Mrs. S. B. Jeffries, 5, Main Street, is a patient at Potomac Valley Hospital.

Miss Joyce McKenzie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin McKenzie, Ward Avenue, is recovering from heart surgery at Johns Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore.

Easter Sunrise Service Slated

WESTERNPORT — Easter sunrise service will be held at First Baptist Church here. Devotions will open with the procession and Rev. S. Paul Horn will preach the annual sermon. His subject will be "The Resurrection."

Col. Galbraith Will Head ROTC Inspection Team

KEYSER — Lt. Col. John M. Galbraith, PMS&T at Potomac State College, has been appointed president of a five-man team which will conduct the annual formal and general inspection of the U.S. Army ROTC on seven college campuses of Ohio and Pennsylvania.

Serving with Col. Galbraith will be Major Alfred V. Clark, West Virginia University; Major Charles C. Ellett, Greenbrier Military School; Capt. Carl E. Stein, Washington and Lee University and CWO John J. Huth, West Virginia University. The Board VI group have the following itinerary:

Kent State University, April 23; Youngstown University, April 24; Gannon College, Erie, Pa., April 25; John Carroll University, Cleveland, April 29; University of Akron, April 30; Bowling Green State University, May 1 and the University of Toledo, May 2.

Their duty will include a conference with school officials, inspection, parade, review of all ROTC cadets, inspection of facilities, inspection of administration and supply, inspection of ROTC classes and inspection of training previously completed.

Polio Clinics Set Tomorrow

BEDFORD — Free polio clinics will be held tomorrow from 9 a. m. to noon at Hyndman-Londonderry High School and Cumberland Elementary School.

Bedford County fired the opening gun of its major battle against polio Monday as 2,100 youngsters from the Bedford and Yellow Creek areas lined up for Salk vaccine shots. The clinics were the first to be held in the county.

The clinic program is part of a double drive to wipe out polio in Bedford County. Shots are being administered free of charge to all children 19 and under whose parents sign the necessary consent forms.

It is coupled with a drive by the Bedford County Medical Society to conduct immunizations in the offices of its members at a standard charge of $3 a shot. No financial test is required for the parents who desire their children to be immunized in the clinics. But the citizens committee backing the clinics and the medical society have joined in urging parents who can afford to do so to have their children immunized at their own expense in their family doctors' offices. The family physician plan is not limited to children. Subject to the availability of vaccine, any person who desires to be immunized may be inoculated.

Fort Ashby Sunrise Service Set Sunday

FORT ASHBY — The annual Easter sunrise service sponsored by Fort Ashby Methodist, Baptist and Presbyterian churches will be held Sunday at 6:30 a. m. on the high school grounds.

Rev. Warren O. Shields, pastor of the Romney-Mineral group of churches, will deliver the sermon. Appropriate hymns will be offered by the combined church choirs.

Burlington School Names Queen, King

BURLINGTON — Pupils of Burlington Model School have elected Sharon Hesse, 13, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hesse, to reign as queen at the annual May Day festivities next month.

Victor Raigner, 15, who resides at the Methodist Children's Home, was named king.

The annual May Day program May 3 will include "Folk-O-Rama USA." An Eighth Grade dinner will be held later in the month.

Attendants will be Deanna Davis and Patricia Siles. Robert Riffle and Charles Homan are escorts. All attend the Eighth Grade.

Jury Returns Indictments

KEYSER — Four indictments affecting seven persons were returned by a Mineral County grand jury here yesterday afternoon.

Two of the indictments were for felonies and the other two for misdemeanors.

Held on felony counts were Forest Wesley Gordon, Ira McKenzie Gordon and Raymond Calvin Flanagan, who were charged with assaulting William Melvin Jenkins and taking $80 in cash.

Felony indictments were also returned against Jesse Swanger and Gene Swick in the sale of automobile batteries valued at $35 and taken from Edward and Olen Faulk.

A misdemeanor indictment was returned against Helen Gay Chabot on a charge of driving while under the influence of liquor.

A similar count was returned against Eva Maxine Shears for the neglect of nine children.

Zoning Appeal Board Reports

WESTERNPORT — Gerald Frantz, the first person to appear before the Westernport Appeal Board since the zoning ordinance was enacted, was given a favorable verdict.

The ordinance states that no residence can be built within 15 feet of the curb and not nearer than five feet from the street on the side.

The board ordered that the new law would not affect Frantz due to the fact that he had made an application for the permit before the regulation was passed.

He will be permitted to build a 40-foot house on a 50-foot lot on Spruce Street.

Kiwanians To Dine

KEYSER — The Kiwanis Club of Keyser will hold its regular weekly dinner meeting tonight at First Methodist Church at 6:15. The program will be presented by the Potomac State Circle K Club. William Stafford will introduce one of the delegates to the Key Club state convention who will give a brief report on the meeting at Fairmont.

Brethren Church Choir Will Offer Easter Cantata

WESTERNPORT — The choir of Westernport Church of the Brethren will present an Easter cantata, "A Song of Triumph," Sunday morning at 10:30 in the church auditorium under the direction of Ralph E. Fike.

The cantata is written by Edith Sanford Tillotson with the music composed by Edward W. Norman. Gene Marsh will be the pianist for the entire arrangement.

The opening chorus, "Hail, Glorious Day," will be sung by the 22-voice choir. Numbers in the cantata include "Near the Cross Was Mary Weeping," soprano solo, Mrs. Lois Marsh; "God So Loved the World," alto solo, Mrs. Edna Marsh; "Fear Not Ye," tenor solo, Brydon DeWitt; "Savior Divine," soprano solo, Miss Carol Lee Burke.

"They Crucified Him," a bass solo, will be sung by Robert Marsh with Mrs. Lorraine Stevenson and Mrs. Lois Marsh singing the duet part. "Dark Is the Garden" will be sung by a quartet composed by Miss Phyllis Wilt, soprano; Miss Ruth Wilt, alto; Raymond Stevenson, tenor, and Ted Metcalfe, bass, with the entire choir singing in the final chorus. A men's two-part chorus will sing "Keep Your Vain Watch."

"As It Began to Dawn" will be sung by Mrs. Helen DeWitt and Mrs. Ruth Walker.

Other choir numbers are "Sing Unto the Lord," "Hail the Easter Morn," "Christ the Lord is Risen Into the Lord," and "Rejoice in the Lord." The finale of the cantata, "The Triumph Song," will be sung by the entire choir.

Other members to participate in the cantata are Mrs. Leona Smallwood, Miss Elaine Metcalfe and Miss Carol Ann Rhodes, sopranos; Mrs. Anna Burke, Mrs. Bertha Hackett, Miss Betty Lou Fike and Miss Nancy Sager, altos; Robert Shimer and Dorsey Rogers, basses and Ernest Riley, tenor.

Arrangements have been made by the choir to present the cantata at several churches in the area. The schedule is: April 22, Old Furnace; April 23, Beaver Run; April 28, Mt. Storm and a date to be set for White Pine.

250-Year-Old State Statute Invalidated

BALTIMORE (AP) — A 250-year-old Maryland law which made it a crime for a white woman to bear a child fathered by a Negro has been invalidated by the chief judge of the Baltimore Supreme Bench.

Judge Emory H. Niles ruled yesterday the 1715 law unconstitutional because it is discriminatory and said he believed it violated the 14th Amendment to the Constitution.

The ruling came as Judge Niles dismissed without trial an indictment against a 20-year-old white woman. She had revealed she bore a child fathered by a Negro when she asked the domestic relations department to require him to support the child.

"This statute applies unequally to the conduct which it prohibits, in that it penalizes one class of guilty persons on the grounds of race," the judge's opinion said.

The case was the first ever prosecuted in Baltimore under the ancient law and Judge Niles said the Maryland Court of Appeals has never passed on the law's validity.

If a ballot were to be taken to pick the area's outstanding high school baseball coach, our vote would go to "Bobby" Cavanaugh of Fort Hill.

Dean of district mentors, the veteran Sentinel boss is in a class by himself when it comes to "squeezing" out those close victories. We have

Bob Cavanaugh yet to see a team coached by Cavanaugh that couldn't hunt—and that weapon has played a big part in the success of Fort Hill clubs.

Over the years, the Sentinels have executed the play so well that they have been able to win the close ones even though the opposition anticipated the strategy. It isn't a matter of crossing up the opposing team, merely "bunting the ball where they ain't."

Last year, for instance, Fort Hill's Jesse Markley and LaSalle's Billy Roberts were booked up in a scoreless mooned battle. In the last of the seventh, "Pooch" Lewis got on base for the Sentinels and moved to third on a two-base sacrifice.

George Geatz, then coaching the Explorers, was positive that Cavanaugh would be attempting a squeeze play and he warned his players to this effect. But Galen McGregor still laid down a bunt and beat it out while Lewis crossed home with the only run of the game.

It would be interesting to check back through the old record books and see how many times Cavanaugh's teams have marked up victories in this manner.

With the accent on long-distance hitting these days, bunting has become almost a lost art. If you don't think this is true, next time you see a major league game on television observe how pathetic some batters' look in attempting to bunt.

Of course, this is only one phase of the diamond sport. There is a lot more to baseball than bunting, hitting and catching the ball. A good player must always be thinking ahead, a point that Cavanaugh stresses.

"Bobby" never takes the coaching line, assigning this duty to his boys because he thinks it helps to make them better players. The fellows in the coaching boxes are the "eyes" of the offensive team. Their alertness, or lack of it, can be the difference between a mediocre and great season.

Even the kids on the Fort Hill bench have to be on their toes, as Cavanaugh frequently quizzes them about what they would do when some play out of the ordinary pops up on the field.

High school baseball is getting better because of the training youngsters get in the Hot Stove and Little Leagues, but even some of the stars in those circuits find when they go out for the team at Fort Hill that there is a lot more to learn about the game.

Many little things, such as putting a tag on a runner as such a manner so as to be least likely to drop the ball, backing up bases and hints on throwing and catching, are imparted by Cavanaugh.

To prove that Cavanaugh's boys are always thinking, you will often see a Fort Hill outfielder hustle in to cover a bag left unguarded when an opposing player is trapped in a rundown. That is a rare sight in schoolboy baseball.

Cavanaugh is a student of our national pastime and picked up much of his inside baseball while playing under the immortal Home Run Baker in the old Eastern Shore League in 1923.

Here was the setup in Baltimore's third inning:

Kell was on second and Willie Miranda on first with one out when Billy Gardner hit a grounder toward shortstop Billy Klaus. It looked like a sure double play in the making.

But the 34-year-old Kell let the ball hit him on the foot as he made motions as if he were trying to jump over it. Kell was ruled an automatic out, but the double play was broken up and Baltimore still had two men on base.

The strategy backfired, however, as Bob Boyd grounded out to end the threat.

Kell revealed later the Orioles had "talked about and practiced" the play all spring.

Although Boston players raised a little ruckus over the play, umpire Joe Paparella said "there is nothing in the rules to prevent an action like Kell's."

Paparella said he was surprised (Continued on Page 19)

Musial Gets Four Hits In Cushing For Batting Title

By ED WILKS

The 1957 major league season is barely 24 hours old on a full-fledged basis, yet everything looks to be falling into the predicted pattern:

Close Race Develops In PVC, Dressen Calls Keyser, Jackets Win Again

A tight race has started to develop this early in the Potomac Valley Baseball Conference with Romney, Moorefield, Capon Bridge and Elk Garden all making threats for the crown worn the past three seasons by the Yellowjackets.

Capon has a chance of knocking Keyser for the lead tomorrow afternoon when the Indians are host to Berkeley Springs. The other four unbeaten clubs will be idle with Moorefield and Elk Garden returning to action Friday afternoon. The Jackets (3-0) will invade Petersburg while the Stags (2-0) are host to Romney.

Three other games are billed tomorrow afternoon with Circleville playing at Franklin, West Virginia School for the Deaf at Romney facing Fort Ashby at home and Wardsville being host to Paw Paw.

Tornado Notches Fourth Keyser dished out a 7-1 loss to West Virginia Deaf yesterday at home to make its PVC record 1-4. Terry Maine was both the hurling and hitting hero for the Tornado. Maine pitched a four-hitter and cracked three hits for a perfect day at bat. Gene Smith had a pair of safeties for the Lions.

Moorefield stayed on the heels of the Keyser and Capon Bridge teams with Lester Hyre scored twice in the eighth inning. The Jackets, who have won 23 straight over the past three seasons, got only two bingles off Romney's Harlan Liller—both by Ralph Ben.

Paul Tasker and pitcher Tom Milavec shared six of Elk Garden's nine hits in the Stags' 5-2 decision over Fort Ashby on the Eagles' field. The Stags are defeated in two starts. Eddie Linn was the loser.

Southern Rally Wins Southern of Oakland notched its first win with a three-run rally in the eighth whipping Circleville, 6-4, at Circleville. Larry Wimer had put the Indians off to a 3-0 lead in the first with a three-run homer while Southern came back to dent the dish three times in the sixth to send the game into extra frames.

Jerry Wine's double drove in two of the runs in the eighth with Allen Dewitt tossing six scoreless frames from the first inning until Circleville failed its final run in the last of the eighth. Dewitt fanned 11 while losing pitcher Jack Yokum set down eight.

Evan Mongold turned in the top performance of the afternoon in holding Wardsville to a single by Bruce Orndorff as Mathias whipped the Warriors, 4-1, on the winners' field. Mongold, who struck out 15, also had three hits while Arvin Shippe's double for the (Continued on Page 19)

Canadiens Ice Stanley Cup

MONTREAL (AP)—The 1957 Stanley Cup final passed today into hockey history, the last chapter recording on blood-tinged pages Montreal Canadiens' victory over the Boston Bruins.

The most savagely fought game of the series—a game that had its highlights of fighting, brawling, slashing and almost everything in the book—turned out to be a comparatively easy 5-1 win last night for the hard-hitting Montrealers.

The Canadiens jumped into the lead, increased it to a comparatively safe margin and finished off the best-of-seven series with a 4-1 margin. Over the five-game distance they outscored the Bruins 15-6.

The five Montreal goals were scored by as many players—Andre Pronovost, Dickie Moore, Bernie (Room Boom) Geoffrin, Don Marshall and Floyd Curry. Boston's lone goal was scored by scrappy Leo Labine.

Here are the attendance figures:

Calumet Seen Near Shoo-In In '57 Derby

LOUISVILLE, Ky. — (INS) — There's no "sure thing" in horse racing, but Calumet Farm comes closer to being a Kentucky Derby shoo-in this year than anyone has since the same stable sent Citation and Coaltown to the post in 1948.

Three important tuneup races, beginning Saturday, will determine the Calumet competition. One of the smallest fields since 1948's six starters is expected for the 83rd running of the Derby on May 4 at Churchill Downs.

The powerful combination of Gen. Duke and jockey Willie Harlick is expected to keep most owners away from Louisville that afternoon. Besides Gen. Duke, Calumet trainer Jimmy Jones plans to send the fleet-running stablemate Iron Lige, into the $125,000-added event.

Bold Ruler Bows Gen. Duke sealed Calumet's three-year-old racing superiority convincingly in Florida. Bold Ruler, stout-running hopeful from the Wheatley Stable, was whipped twice by the Calumet star, and 82-year-old trainer Jim Fitzsimmons may not even send his horse to the Derby.

Jones, whose famous father, Ben, saddled six Derby winners, five for Calumet, has half a dozen three-year-olds working out at Keeneland near Lexington, Ky. He will enter at least two in the Bluegrass Stakes there April 23 and the following Tuesday expects to send Gen. Duke and Iron Lige into the Derby Trial at Churchill Downs.

Some of the Eastern candidates, including Bold Ruler, may be held out until the Preakness, two weeks after the Derby at Pimlico.

Fitzsimmons will send his colts postward Saturday at Jamaica for the rich Wood Memorial, a traditional mile-and-a-half test for Derby eligibles.

Nashua Lost Recalled Racing experts recalled that in 1953 when Fitzsimmons trained the brilliant Nashua, he was not anxious to enter the horse in the Derby. Since the venerable trainer had not personally made the trip to Louisville for some time, Nashua was sent without him and lost to Cain Hoy Stable's Dark Star.

For the first time since 1953, California will not have a strong threat for the Derby. Prince Khalid star of the F. W. Kratz stable, was declared last February.

Candidates, only one Westerner, Ross and Kipstein's Swirling Abbey, may run.

Among those expected to battle the Calumet entry are Clifford Luskys, Federal Hill, T. M. Kerr's Round Table, Greenleaf Stable's Black Eye and T. A. Grissom's Shan Pac.

There is an outside chance that J. L. Applebaum's Mister Jive, outstanding as a juvenile, will show up. And Massey and Edwards' high brown colt, King Itairan, which has been raced only sparingly, made a strong showing last Saturday in a six-furlong dash.

Should he do well in the Wood, he too may be shipped to Churchill Downs.

Sentinels Take City Lead, Allegany Sluggers Still Hot

Allegany High's swatsmiths and Fort Hill's opportunists continued to set the pace in the Allegany County Baseball League by marking up their second victory yesterday for as many games.

The Campers continued their torrid batting splurge as coach Gene Shaw's club walloped Flintstone, 17-2, at Campobello. The Blue and White clobbered Bruce of Westport, 14-3, in the eighth last week.

"Played the game"

Fort Hill's defending champs took the lead in the city race by edging LaSalle, 4-1, at Stitches Field as all four of the Sentinel tallies were chased across in the sixth frame.

Valley, Beall Headlocked Valley of Lonaconing and Beall of Frostburg preserved their undefeated records after battling to a 3-3 draw in eight frames at Frostburg. Both clubs had won their openers. Bruce cracked in to the win column by marking up a 4-0 shutout over Mt. Savage on the one-hit chugging of Donnie Wilkinson at "Savage."

Only two clubs will stay in the undefeated class when the league resumes play next Wednesday. The co-champion Sentinels will play at Barton against Valley while Alco travels to Frostburg to meet Beall. LaSalle, co-king pin last year in the loop with the Sentinels, will be after its first win by playing Bruce on the Bull dog diamond while witless Mt. Savage and Flintstone collide on the Aggies' field.

Jesse Markley posted his second ACL victory in holding LaSalle to four hits for the Sentinels. The Red Raiders' right hander mowed down ten on strikeouts while Jerry McGreevy, in relief of Matt Mulaney, was tagged with the loss.

Thurl Roy paced the Hilltoppers in hitting with a pair of singles and was the only clubber to garner more than one safety. Alco southpaw Gene Cave elbowed a three-hitter and fanned 11 as the Campers continued their batting assault on the league. Three Flintstone hurlers were solved for 18 safeties with starter Wayne Boggs absorbing the defeat.

Diehl, Davis Homer Included in the attack were a pair of three-run homers by first-baseman Ronnie Diehl and right-fielder Glenn Davis. Diehl also weighed in with a pair of singles for a perfect day at the dish. The Alco first-sacker, who led the league in extra-base production last spring, now has socked six hits in seven trips for two games.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our dear son, William Frederick Kinnard, Jr., who was killed in Germany, April 17, 1945. Beautiful memories of a smiling face. A broken link no one can replace. What ever else we fail to do, we'll never fail to think of you. Sincerely, his father and mother.
